

Expect Race For Council, School Bd.

Newmarket holds its annual nomination for council, school board and hydro commission tomorrow night in the town hall and it is expected that the record of council will be challenged by new contenders for council seats.

Members of this year's council are generally expected to seek re-election and in addition, Mrs. Violet MacNaughton is also running again and mention has been made of at least two other potential contenders.

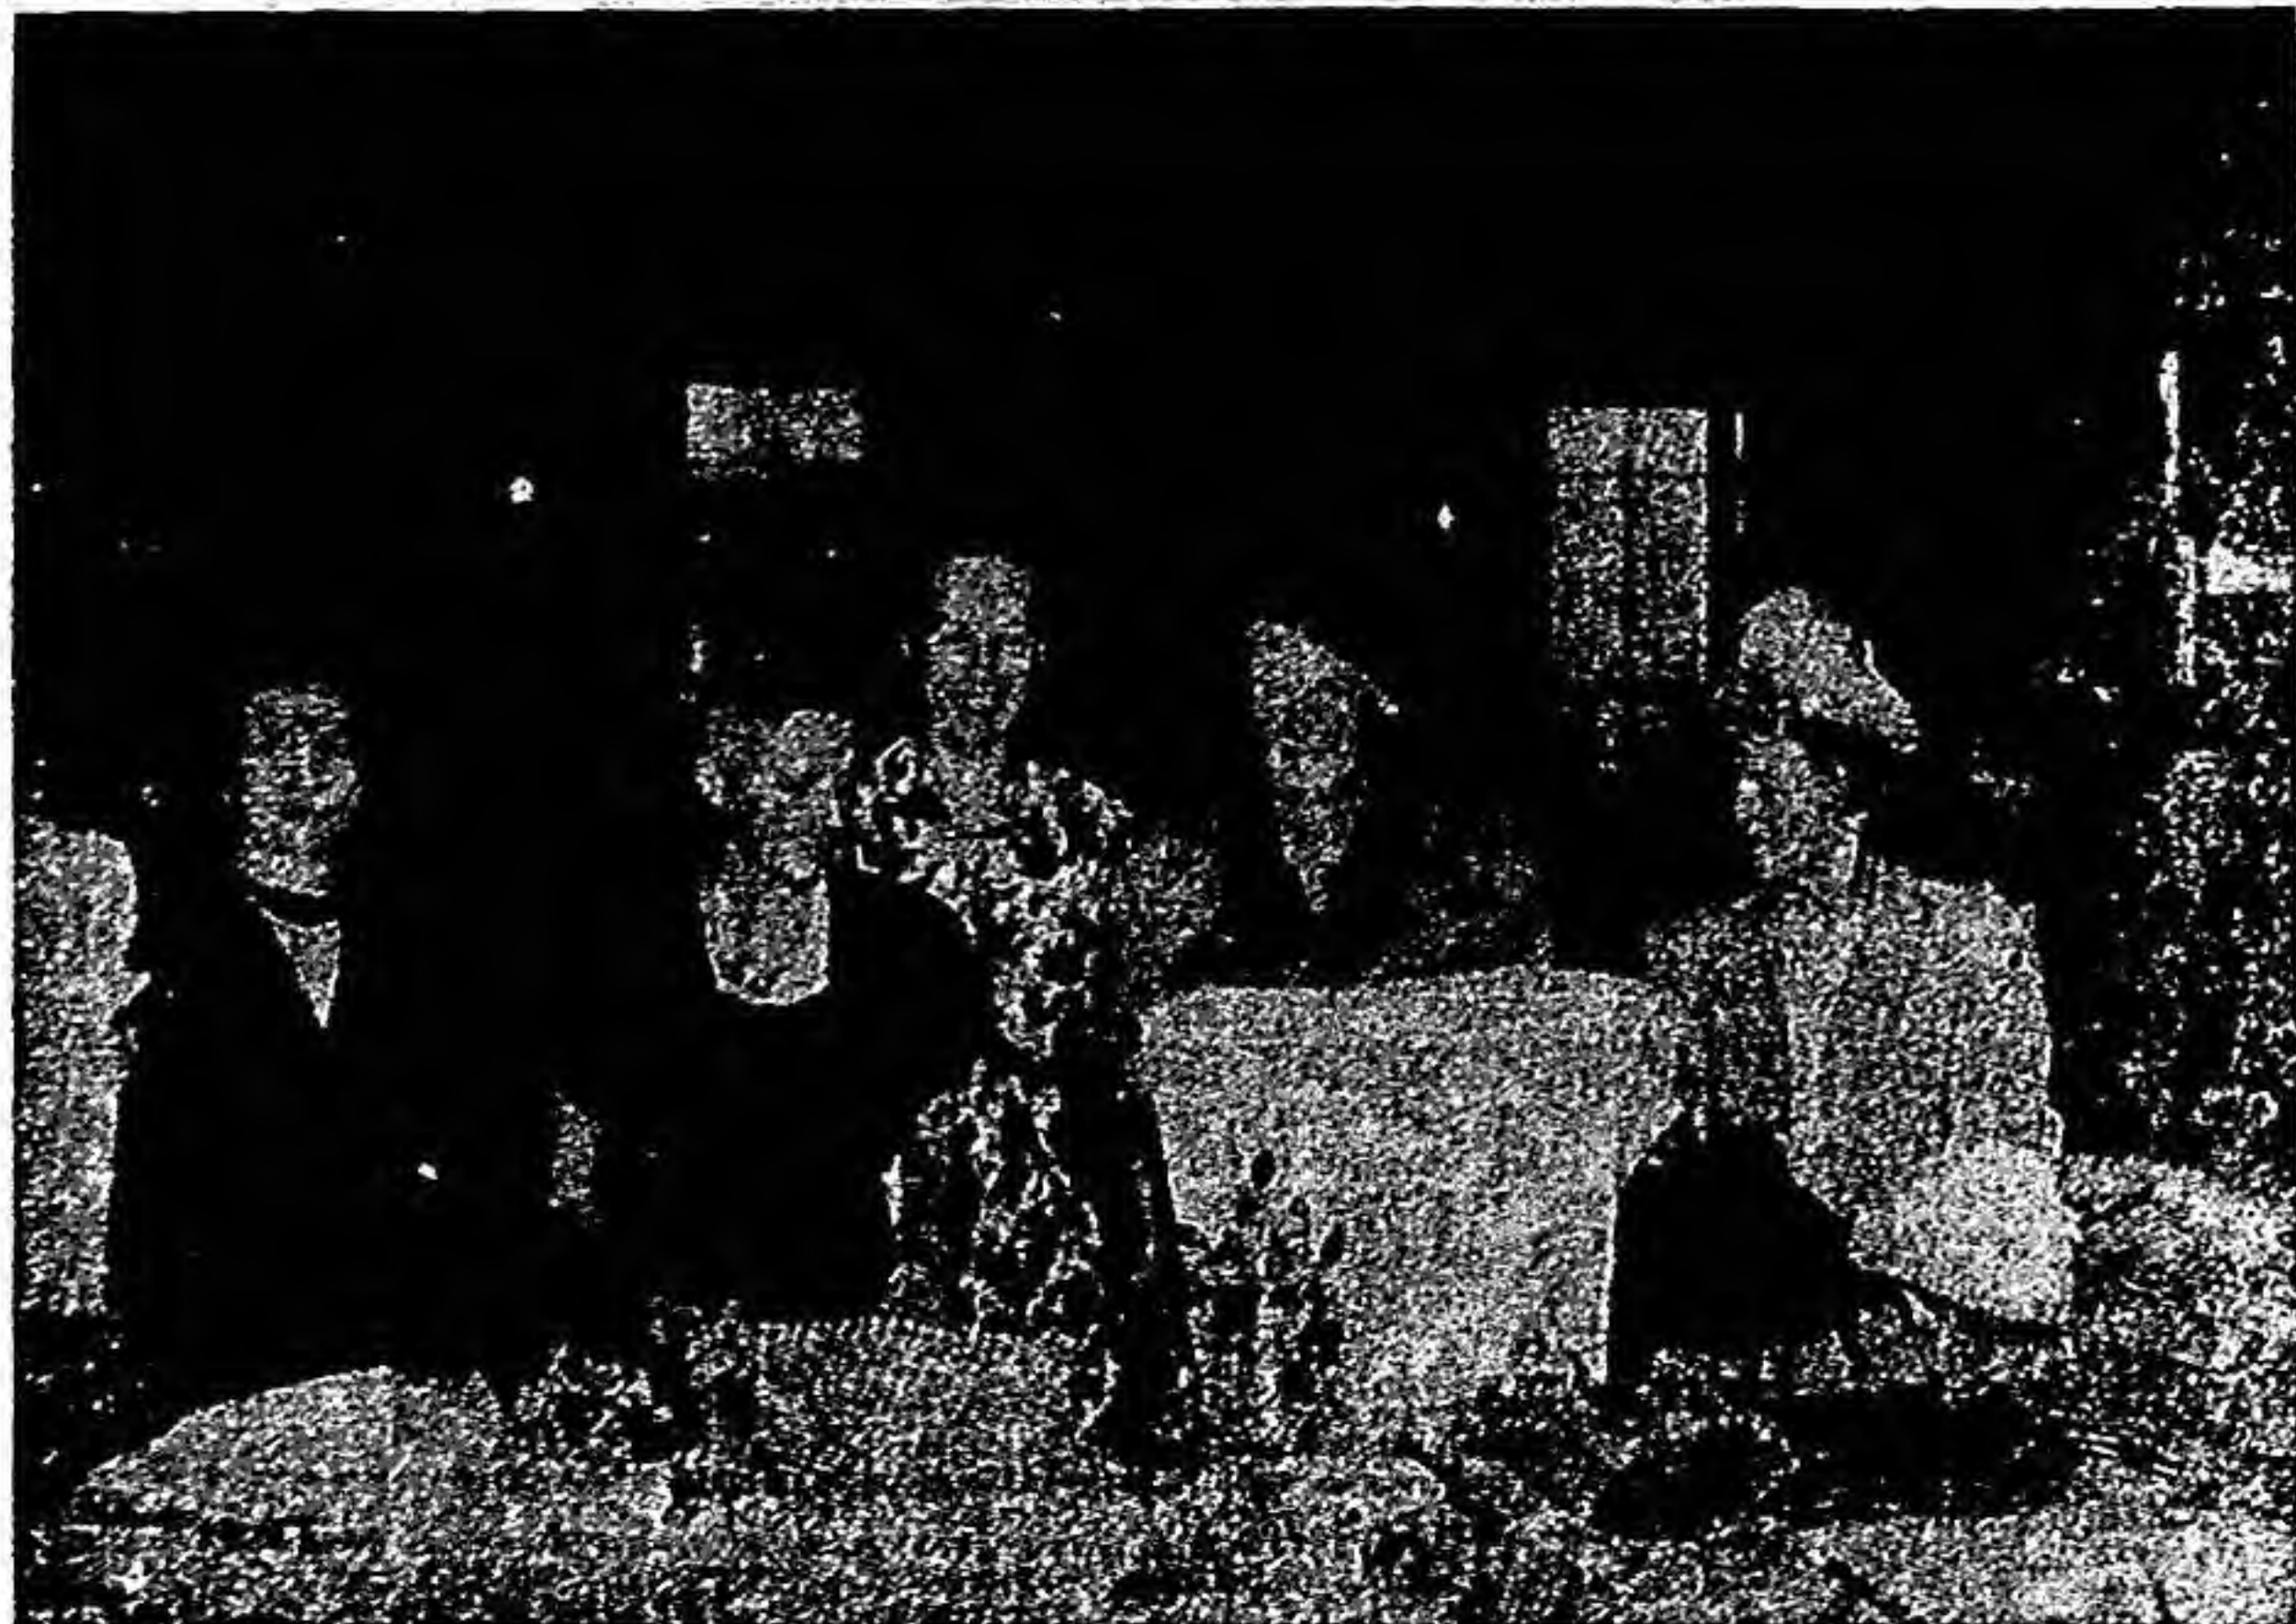

Mrs. MacNaughton was a principal in last year's close vote which resulted in a recount which placed her standing actually higher than one councillor but because of the restrictions of the election laws, she was prevented from claiming her seat.

"I am running again for the same reasons I ran last year," she announced. "I think taxes are too high and that council needs new blood."

There is a strong possibility of a fight for school board seats with considerable maneuvering going on for expected vacancies.

As in other years, members of council will give a review of the year's work and their plans for the next year, and new candidates will announce the election platforms.

Municipal election day will be on Monday, December 3. Polling booths will be at the corner of Millard and Main Sts., town hall and 79 Prospect St.

Members of the Newmarket Handcraft group which sponsored a Community Bazaar in the town hall last week display some of the articles and woven material they made themselves. Left to right are Mrs. Herman Bennett, Mrs. Nancy Hughes, Mrs. George McNelly, Mrs. Ted Mitchell, all of Newmarket, and Mrs. E. L. Maughan, Aurora. Like the Trade Fair, the Community Bazaar, an annual affair, is growing larger every year and a larger building may be necessary next year.

TO SELL TREES

The Optimist Club of Newmarket will be selling Christmas trees this year to raise funds for boys' work in town. The Optimists will have a Christmas tree lot behind Trinity United church and they say that their prices will be reasonable. Members of the club will be making a canvass of Newmarket homes to take orders for trees soon.

Over $1,000 Raised In Community Bazaar Sales

Visitors and participants were unanimous in their praise of the Community Bazaar held in the Newmarket town hall on Wednesday, Nov. 14. The gross receipts topped the $1,000 mark.

The biggest bazaar yet sponsored by the Newmarket Handcraft group, it included 15 separate booths with a total of 31 exhibitors. Mrs. George McNelly was general convener. This is the third successive year that the bazaar has been held and it marks a new high in community co-operation. Members of various church groups, individuals and town organizations worked side by side in their effort to provide a composite picture of local crafts.

Tea was served both afternoon and evening by the sponsoring organization with Mrs. M. B. Seldon convening.

Exhibitors in the bazaar included: David Hood, the Evening Branch, W.A. St. Paul's Anglican church, the Junior Ladies' Aid, Christian Baptist church, Newmarket Girl Guide company, Frank Vandenberg, York County Hospital Women's Auxiliary, Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Catholic Women's League, Mrs. G. F. McCannan, Newmarket Handcraft group, Mrs. Wilmet Hill, Miss Lenora Cutting, Newmarket Women's Institute; Bogartown Women's Institute, Mrs. Cecil Jarvis, Mrs. William Bales, Mrs. Lou Bovair, Mrs. Fred Hughes, Mrs. George McNelly, Mrs. E. A. Mitchell, Mrs. N. L. Matthews, Mrs. Gibson Madge, Mrs. A. L. Maughan, Miss Ethel Garrick, Mrs. S. W. Otton, Miss Esther McGhee, Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, Mrs. Stewart Beare, Mrs. Herman Bennett and Mrs. Arthur Davies.

OPTIMISTS' DRAW

A draw for an air trip to Bermuda with all expenses paid will be made by the Newmarket Optimist club on Friday, December 7, at the Memorial Arena. The Optimists are holding a public skating party at the arena on Friday night with music by The Newmarket Citizens' Band and the draw will be made at intermission.

No Vote On Subsidy For Bus Service

There will be no vote taken for a bus line subsidy at Newmarket's municipal elections according to Mayor Jos. Vale. Councillor Lorne Paynter said a number of citizens had been asking whether a vote would be taken.

One bus route was suspended this fall which served the south east and north west sections of town. A suggestion was made following the discontinuation of the route that the service be continued.

The mayor said that it would be necessary to advertise the vote over a period of time and that there was not enough time before the election. The only way it could be done would be by a special vote later, he said.

DISCUSS HAZARDS AT INTERSECTION OF DAVIS AND MAIN

Traffic hazards at the corner of Davis Dr. and Main St., Newmarket, were discussed by the town council on Monday night.

Councillor Lorne Paynter said that there have been several accidents there and that there was a constant danger from loaded gravel trucks travelling west to Yonge St.

J. O. Dales said that the engineer had a plan to remove a hydro pole on the south east corner of the street. It was said that the Imperial Oil Co., owner of the corner, would co-operate in having the corner widened to give a turning lane for traffic turning east from Main St.

OPEN SHELTER

The North York Humane Society has opened its shelter at the old Stallard slaughter house property on Second St., north of the cemetery. They are employing a man for pick-ups. Calls for assistance may be made to Mrs. J. B. Waterhouse, phone 666.

Robert Yates, who has been in the jewellery business in Newmarket since 1948, is opening a new modern store at 39 Main St., next to Eaton's order office on Saturday. The new store will be considerably larger than the present premises which he took over from C. G. Wainman in March, 1948. Its new modern front is another improvement to the changing appearance of Main St. Mr. Yates, who is married, is a member of the Lions club and active in business organizations. He plans a grand opening for the store on Saturday, November 24.

WON'T PAY $60 BILL FOR FIRE CALL TO MT. ALBERT FARM

Payment of $60 to the town of Newmarket for fire brigade services near Mount Albert on Oct. 9 has been refused by the township of East Gwillimbury according to Councillor Charles VanZant.

The Newmarket fire brigade answered a call to a barn fire on Oct. 9 and along with Mount Albert and Uxbridge brigades, saved the building by towing away a burning straw stack with a tractor.

"Since Newmarket has no agreement with the township to be paid for fighting fires in the Mount Albert area, the $60 fee was refused by the township. "But you can't ignore a call to a fire when a man's barn is burning down," said Mr. VanZant.

Mayor Vale said that if there is no agreement for fees, the firemen should refuse to go into the area in spite of criticisms they might receive.

Santa Claus Coming To Newmarket Dec. 8

Santa Claus is coming to Newmarket on Saturday, Dec. 8, and will start his parade down Main St. at 1 p.m.

And as usual Santa will distribute gifts of candy and fruit to the children as they pass before his throne which will be set up in the town square.

The parade this year is being brought into town but anyone wishing to enter a float is encouraged to do so providing that the float observes the general Christmas theme of the parade.

There will be the two bands, Newmarket Citizens' Band and the Trumpet Band. The latter organization, at present disbanded, will come together for the event.

The parade is being sponsored by Newmarket businessmen who are contributing to the cost, as are the town council, service organizations, and other groups.

The parade will be of large size with 14 floats to start with, plus additional floats placed by local organizations and businessmen. The route of the parade is the same as other years with a start at Davis Dr., south on Main St., around by D'Arcy St., up Church St. and back along Timothy St. to the square where Santa will alight and greet the children.

As in other years, volunteers are required to wear the costumes. One hundred and fifty are required, aged between 14 and 16 years, more or less. They are asked to give their names to a member of the costume committee of Harry Estrin, The Mar, Charles Boyd, Ted Robinson at the Marigold, Tom Surgeoner, at Jack Fraser's, John Meyer, Era and Express, and Eugene McCaffrey at McCaffrey's Flowers. They will report to the town hall between 10:30 and 12 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 8, for their costumes and assignments. In addition, eight to ten children of eight years of age are required for special "gum drop" costumes.

York To Buy Eildon Hall Property

York County council approved the purchase of the Eildon Hall property on Lake Simcoe this week. The purchase price of $120,000 was agreed upon.

The property has 496 acres and will be developed as a public park. There is not now any large park space along the lake shore which has become one of the most popular summer resort areas in Ontario. The property lies east of Sutton.

The decision was made to recommend to next year's council that the property be purchased out of current funds. To meet the cost of development, the sum of $10,000 will be set aside next year. This will provide for the clearing of the lake frontage and the construction of concrete block buildings for washrooms.

The property is owned by a member of the Sibbald family now residing in England.

Concert Ass'n. Canvassers Start Membership Campaign Saturday

A banquet is being held tomorrow night for nearly 40 canvassers who will start a week's campaign Saturday for the Newmarket Canadian Concert Association. They will be selling one-year membership tickets for a concert series by Canadian Artists. The first concert probably will be held in February.

The newly formed Canadian Concert Service and Artists' Management was started by Messrs. Wallace Young, Oshawa schools music supervisor, and Baily Bird, Toronto. It is their hope to improve the lot of Canadian musicians by arranging a permanent series of all-Canadian concerts in as many towns and cities as possible.

In former years, a series of concerts had to be underwritten by a few generous citizens who would guarantee perhaps $100 each in the event that not enough tickets were sold.

The present series is operated by obtaining the help of about 40 interested people who volunteer to sell a few series tickets each, and no one is responsible for any loss.

If the auditorium is not completely sold out, the concerts will be held with a less expensive artist. If a profit is shown, it is carried over to the next year and a wider choice of artists is then obtainable for the next series in the following year.

Campaign headquarters for the membership drive opens at the former town clerk's office on Saturday. The campaign closes the following Saturday, December 1.

PICKERING COLLEGE STAGES SHAW PLAY END OF NEXT WEEK

"The Devil's Disciple" by George Bernard Shaw, is being produced by the Pickering College dramatic club on the college stage Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

About his play, a satirical melodrama, the author wrote, "The play is stuffed with everything from the ragging of melodrama... with just that little bit of my own added that makes all the difference."

The public is invited to attend either of the Friday or Saturday performances.

TEACHERS DISCUSS STUDY CHANGES

On Wednesday, Nov. 14, the King George school was the meeting place of the local lady teachers and a delegation of teachers from Keswick and Jersey schools. Miss Helen Richardson ably acted as chairman.

The purpose of the meeting was to begin a series of discussions as a basis for curriculum revision. The first chapter of the book, "The Child from Five to Ten", dealing with the cycle of development, was taken by Miss Freda Bulmer. A discussion, over a cup of tea, followed on the contents of the chapter.

Stan Hughes, Aurora garage operator, loads deer carcasses on his wrecking truck after they were flung across No. 11 highway from a pick-up truck which crashed into a panel truck. The vehicles collided north of Aurora near St. Andrew's College campus Sunday night at 9 o'clock. Traffic was held up for a mile in both directions for nearly an hour as the wrecks were cleared away. One truck can be seen hoisted on the back of Stan Hughes' wrecker. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lovelace, Toronto, were returning from a deer hunt when they crashed into the panel truck in which were Mr. and Mrs. Avery Jarvis, Cookstown and their four children. Five people went to hospital. Except for Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis, injuries were slight. They suffered cuts and back injuries.

LIFE IS BETTER BECAUSE OF PHARMACY

NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK

Through the centuries, Pharmacy has contributed immeasurably to the relief and health and general well-being of mankind. The pages of medical history are replete with the accomplishments of this noble profession which has aided so greatly in bringing a better and longer life to all.

We are reminded of the phenomenal advance of Pharmacy in recent years—the growing number of wonder-working drugs it has made available to physicians everywhere. We are proud of our profession—proud to be Pharmacists. We are ever ready to blend our skill with that of the physician in time of illness. Do not wait; see your physician now, rather than wait until it is too late—then—many we have the privilege of compounding his prescriptions.

Advertised Thursday—Sold Friday

(Rupert Lad 1E) recently purchased as herd sire by McMillan Bros., Queensville, Sired by Maple Lane Newton, has dam, Somerby Lassie, bred by Col. Birdsall, Peterboro, now owned by G. A. Wilton and Sons, Newmarket.

Pulling power of Era and Express classified advertisements was graphically illustrated recently by the quick sale of this excellent bull. It was advertised on a Thursday, and by Friday afternoon, the animal was sold.

Its results like these that make Era and Express classifieds the most popular selling medium in the district.

Over 4200 copies of the Era and Express printed each week.

Western.—At Newmarket, Thursday, Nov. 22, 1951, Elmira Wilson, wife of the late Frederick West, mother of Mrs. R. P. Morton, (Blanche), Mrs. V. A. Lynden (Edith), H. F. Western and Mrs. J. S. Jackson, (Olive). Resting at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose. Service on Saturday, at 2.30 p.m. Interment Newmarket cemetery.

AT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Forester, 6th line, King, will be at home to their friends and neighbors on Wednesday, November 28, on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. They will receive from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening.

IN MEMORIAM

Stickland.—In loving memory of Emily Toole Stickland, who passed away Nov. 23, 1940. When evening shades are falling, And we sit in the quiet alone, To our hearts there comes a longing, If she only could come home. Friends may think we have forgotten, When at times they see us smile, But they little know the heart-ache Our smiles hide all the while. Lovingly remembered by daughter Helen and family.

Wilkinson.—In loving memory of a dear father and grandad, Joseph Wilkinson, who passed away Nov. 24th, 1950. You are not forgotten Dad, Nor ever will you be. As long as life and memory lasts, We will remember you. Ever remembered by daughter, Ina, son-in-law, Stanley, granddaughters, Donna, Elaine and Marlene.

Wilkinson.—In loving memory of a dear father, Joseph Wilkinson, who passed away November 24, 1950. We lost a dad with a heart of gold, Who was more to us than wealth untold. Without farewell he fell asleep, With only memories for us to keep. We have lost, but God has gained, One of the best dads the world contained. Ever remembered by daughter Ida, son-in-law Will, and grandchildren, Kathleen, Barbara and Paul.

Wilkinson.—In memory of a dear father and grandfather, Joseph Wilkinson, who passed away November 24, 1950. However long our lives may last, Whatever lands we view, Whatever joy or grief be ours, We will always think of you. Sadly missed by daughter, Myrtle, son-in-law, Harvey, and grandchildren.

Wilkinson.—In memory of a dear husband, Joseph Wilkinson, who passed away November 24, 1950. When all is still and silent, And sleep forsakes my eyes; My thoughts are in the silent grave, Where my dear husband lies. Ever remembered by your wife, Dora.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Harman, formerly of Newmarket, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion Jean Lorraine, to Mr. Paul J. Houck, son of Mrs. Edward Deterling and the late Mr. Houck, Ridgeway, the wedding to take place in Ripley Memorial church, East Street, Buffalo, N.Y., on Saturday evening, Dec. 8, at 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Lewis, Downsview, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Joan to Mr. William Ronald Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Wilson, Aurora, the marriage to take place at York Mills Anglican church on December 8, quietly.

SUGGEST SIGNS WARNING MOTORISTS SPEED TRAPS USED

Large signs warning that speed traps were operated in Newmarket were suggested by a meeting of the Newmarket Businessmen's Association on Monday. It was argued that the warnings would help deter speeders, whereas at present, the speed traps only catch the offenders after the offence is committed.

The suggestion was sent to the Newmarket town council on Monday night where it was referred to the chairman of a signs committee, Councillor Frank Bowser.

The next meeting of the association will be on Monday, Dec. 3, at 1 p.m., at the King George hotel. The subject to be discussed will be store hours. All businessmen are invited to these informal discussions of mutual problems.

C. A. CATHERS MILK PRODUCERS

C. A. Cathers, Newmarket, was elected president of district 7 of the Toronto Milk Producers last Wednesday at the annual meeting of the association in Sharon. Fraser Sutherland of Stroud was elected vice-president and M. L. Neuroth of Sharon was returned as secretary-treasurer.

James Hope, Pine Orchard, was returned as district director. Other directors are Dave Doane, Yonge St., John McGillivray, Mt. Albert, A. K. Mitchell, Pefferlaw, Mel MacMillan, Newmarket R. R. 3, and James Porter, Keswick.

Bill Wilmut, managing director of the Toronto Milk Producers, spoke on the milk marketing agency.

Charles E. Pentz

On Monday, Oct. 15, at Sunnybrook Hospital, Charles Everett Pentz, late of the 100th Grenadier Battalion, Winnipeg, died in his 79th year.

Mr. Pentz was the son of the late Philip Pentz and Catherine Lundy, and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lundy of Lundy Hill, north of Newmarket, who were members of the Children of Peace.

His father was the descendant of a pioneer family from Hungary who settled in Illinois over 100 years ago. As a small boy hidden under a bush, he witnessed the slaughter of his entire family by the Indians. Brought to Ontario by a Quaker family, he, as all other boys, members of the Friends, was taught a trade, that of milling.

Mr. Pentz was husband of the late Sarah Gordon, and father of Mrs. S. Gordon Paterson (Marjorie G.), Mrs. Ian W. Oliver (Doris), both of Toronto, and Mrs. M. Knightsbridge (Helene), of Durban, South Africa, and brother of Mrs. W. E. Gypson, Durban, South Africa, and Mrs. T. B. McClelland, Detroit, Michigan.

The funeral took place at the Joseph P. Thompson's funeral parlors, 403 Bayville Avenue, Toronto, on October 16, at 3 p.m. Interment was in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

CORRECTION

The Era and Express has been asked to make a correction in an article about North Gwillimbury roads in an issue two weeks ago. The Era was misinformed that Mrs. Sherman, of Island Grove, landed at Captain May's road by schooner when she came from England as a little girl. A relative has since informed the Era that Mrs. Sherman was born in North Gwillimbury.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

A dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Smith, on Sunday, Nov. 18, in honour of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. (Tone) Smith's 50th wedding anniversary. All members of the family were present and presented their parents with a golden envelope enclosing $51. The hostess was assisted by the two daughters-in-law from Midland and Toronto.

AURORA NOTE

The results of the L.O.B.A. euchre held on Tuesday are: ladies' first, Mrs. Ed. Smith; second, Mrs. Fred White; first, Helen Ingeell. Gentlemen, first, Mr. J. Harmon; second, Mr. W. Terry; third, W. Porter. The next euchre will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 18.

Rev. J. F. Ward, St. Thomas, will be the guest speaker at the Aurora Baptist church on Sunday, Nov. 23, for both services. Everybody welcome.

GET TWO DEER

Two deer were shot by a group of local hunters in the Burke's Falls area. In the party were Don Wright, Nels Schanks, Bob Bunn, Arthur Sheridan, Harry Londry, Bob Sheridan, Newmarket, Jack Stiles, Cedar Valley, and Walter Hirst, Keswick.

LEGION AUXILIARY PLANS FOR BAZAAR

Reports on money raising projects for November were presented at the Nov. 15 meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary, Canadian Legion, Newmarket branch. Held in the Legion hall, the meeting was chaired by Mrs. Paul Tobey.

A successful table was sponsored by the group at last week's community bazaar. The monthly euchre and cribbage party also proved popular. Plans were discussed for the auxiliary's afternoon tea and bazaar which will be held on Friday, Dec. 7, in the Legion hall. Mrs. Robert Bunn is the general convener.

The nomination and election of officers will be held at the December meeting. Light refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

SHOW NEEDLEWORK AT W.A. BAZAAR

An outstanding display of needlepoint and petitpoint will be a feature of the St. Andrew's Day tea and bazaar being held in Newmarket by the W. A. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The display will come from Mrs. Babs Fuhrmann's Petitpoint Gift Shop, Petticoat Lane, Toronto.

Among the fine pieces of craftsmanship will be jewelry, pictures, coverings for chairs, ottomans and other articles. Charts for both types of needlework will be available and a demonstration of needlepoint and petitpoint will be given by Mrs. Dorothy Murray, manager of the shop. Mrs. Murray will welcome the opportunity to give assistance to anyone having problems in this work.

AT W.I. CONVENTION

Delegates from the Newmarket Institute to the annual W.I. convention held at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, Nov. 5 to 7, inclusive, were Mrs. Elman Campbell, Mrs. Elton Armstrong and Mrs. C. R. Near.

Mr. and Mrs. William George Patrick are shown above following their recent marriage at St. John's rectory. The bride is Donna Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Halloran, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick, Aurora. Photo by Budd.

Speaks To Rotary

Guest speaker at the Aurora Rotary club on Monday, Nov. 19, Mr. Percy E. Perryment told his listeners that he was deeply impressed with the possibilities of sport in Aurora, and that he would, as recreation director and arena manager, do his best to develop it in every way.

The newly-appointed recreation director gave an interesting account of the many years during which he has been engaged in recreational and welfare activities, and impressed his listeners with the insight and understanding he displayed in connection with recreation problems.

Mr. Perryment's address received close attention from his hearers, and at the close of it he was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

Keswick In Rural

Keswick's senior hockey squad in the Tri-County rural hockey league hit the ice for the first arena. Twelve trainees reported Sunday at the Newmarket ed. List included net-minder Jim Cook, defenseman Tom Hare, Jack Cole, Dave Huntley and Bud Thompson; forwards Ted Anderson, Albert Smith, Gord Clark, Bill Henry, Fred Thompson and Ivan Rye.

Veteran ice-man Ken. Davie and Claude Pollock were absentees for the weekend workout but are expected to be available for duty again this season. George Bradshaw is manager of the team. A coach hasn't been named yet but it is expected Ken. Davie will resume the duties again.

News Of NEWMARKET LEGION

According to Comrade LaParde, Poppy Day receipts this year exceed those of last year by approximately 30 percent. We know this is due in no small measure, to the efforts of Comrade LaParde and his committee, the taggers, as well as the generosity of our citizens.

On Sunday last, the veterans of several organizations and services, the town council and Newmarket Citizens Band, turned out to make our Remembrance Day parade colorful and impressive. With a splendid service at Trinity United church, and close cooperation of the weatherman, it was in all a grand day. In the evening, about seven carloads of veterans from Newmarket, took part in the annual pilgrimage to the United Church in Holland Landing.

This has become, in the past few years, a ritual for some of us, and we now feel that it is part of our Remembrance Day activities. We thoroughly enjoy this Sunday evening service and the social hour that follows, and look forward to it each year; renewing our friendship with the Rev. MacTavish and the folks of Holland Landing.

Owing to the condition of the roads on Wednesday of last week, it was necessary to cancel the Zone meeting at Stouffville.

At the Legion Hall, last Thursday evening, 13 new applicants were initiated into the Canadian Legion, and are now full-fledged members of our branch. A social evening followed the impressive ceremony, and all in all it constituted a well-spent evening.

PINE ORCHARD

Community club will meet at the school on Friday night, Nov. 23, at 8 p.m. Musical program, club paper and movie films. Everybody welcome.

Messrs. Bernard Davidson of Belhaven, Fred Wicks of Markham and Jack Sytema, members of York County Cream Producers' committee, attended the annual meeting of the Ontario Cream Producers in Toronto on Tuesday.

Several from this community attended the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Rae McClure and family spent the weekend at Guelph.

Rev. A. S. Doggett of Union church based his sermon on Sunday, Nov. 18, on "Ten Commandments." Divine worship on Sunday, Nov. 25, at 2.30 p.m., and Sunday school at 1.30 p.m. A cordial welcome to both services.

Miss Betty Sytema and friends spent Sunday at Fort Erie.

KESWICK

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cameron, Miss Lynn Marritt, Miss R. Van Norman, Mr. Frank Marritt and Mr. Wm. King all attended the funeral of John Herbert Marritt in Richmond Hill on Saturday. Interment was in Aurora cemetery.

Mr. Marritt was the son of the late Wm. E. Marritt, Keswick. He leaves one sister, Arabella, of Niagara Falls, and Carolyn (Mrs. Vogle) of Cloverdale, B.C., both of whom were present. Mr. Marritt was late of Victoria Square and passed away at Toronto General hospital following a stroke.

Mrs. S. Kettell is improving after being under the doctors' care for the past few weeks. Her sister, Mrs. Frank Perry, of Toronto, was with her for a time.

Mrs. Elmer Peters is in York County hospital following a slight stroke, but we are pleased to report she is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Agar and Miss B. Terry spent Sunday visiting with relatives in Orillia.

Among those on the sick list is Mrs. Hogg who is confined to bed. Miss Ella Morton, R.N., is in attendance.

The Musical Play Society presented a successful performance in the Keswick Memorial Centre last Friday night with a cast of 40 children. There will be a repeat performance at the centre on Friday, Nov. 30.

Some of the district children who took lead parts in the performance were Peggy Carr, a talented young actress with perfect speaking and performance, Carol Boothby, Jane Murnan and Shirley Link who showed ability on the stage.

Mrs. Millicent Walsh, who directed, produced and made all the costumes for the performance, has been doing considerable work with the young children. A professional contralto, she has been performing since she was four years old and has had many years of experience in musical play society work.

Greta Walsh, her youngest daughter, is 9 years old and has a beautiful voice.

A special feature of the play was the dancing by 20 members of the cast. The United church choir sang the "Lost Chord" at the beginning of the concert, accompanied by Elaine Cowleson. At the end of the performance, Mrs. Walsh was presented with a box of flowers by the cast.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

It is unfortunately indicative of our times that one of the most difficult tasks in any organization is that of nominating committee. Men and women show their initial interest in the group by becoming members. For too many, that is the extent of their personal participation.

Once they are approached to assume some responsibility, negative answers are forthcoming. "Oh, I couldn't be president, I've had no experience." "No, I'm sorry I can't take that responsibility; I wouldn't want to feel tied."

There is no need of listing all the answers here, for you are too familiar with them. But consider what such excuses mean. Usually, the question of being tied means giving up one or two evenings a month to that organization. If enough members accepted their share of the group's work, no one member would be burdened with the entire responsibility. Such associations with a group, and they happen all too frequently, spoil the recreational aspects for the overworked member.

As for the other excuses of not having experience. If they are unwilling to attempt a job, they will never have experience. We never stand still. Either we learn and go forward, mentally and emotionally maturing with our accumulating years, or we regress.

These words are not directly against any individuals or any particular group, but rather in an effort to make all of us more conscious of our responsibilities. However, it is in the field of leadership for youth organizations where great difficulties are encountered.

Here, men and women are needed to give and to give freely and generously, not only of their time and energies, but frequently at a sacrifice of their own social pleasures. Time must be spent in the preparation of the program for the meeting as well as for the meeting itself. Many interruptions and invasions in the leader's private life are made by the children in these groups.

Where should training in good citizenship begin but in childhood? How can we ask the younger members of our community to follow habits of self-reliance, loyalty and thoughtfulness for others if we don't practice what we preach? At present additional leaders are desperately needed for cubs, scouts, guides and brownies. It is unfair to expect one man or woman, unassisted, to lead a group of 35 to 50 youngsters.

This apathy exists in many groups. It is by no means limited to guiding and scouting, but as local guide commissioner and mother of a cub we are concerned primarily in this field.

At an emergency meeting of the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary last week to remedy the situation, the president, Mrs. B. L. Sinclair, said:

"The Scout and Guide Mother's Association will soon be ending another year. This organization should be made up of all mothers of scouts, cubs, guides and brownies. Its function is to assist these groups in any material way it can; the money raised by this organization is used solely for scouting and guiding. At present the ladies have voted $150 to be used to help renovate the Scout hall—the hall is the meeting place of all scouts, cubs, guides and brownies of Newmarket."

"In order to maintain a working group, the Scout and Guide Mothers' Association must have the co-operation of the mothers—those same mothers who so willingly and gladly send their children off once a week to scouts and guides. There are some 200 children sent each week to their respective groups, which means there are at least 150 mothers who should be supporting the Mothers' Association. The average attendance of this association this last year has been less than 16, which is a very poor representation of the whole. If each mother could attend a meeting once every two months, there would be a reasonably sized group present to give the executive a feeling that the mothers were co-operating, and this feeling of co-operation is what we are seeking for this coming year."

On the alleys

Geo. Watt was again tops in the Town League with 749 (230-238-281). Three others hit over 700, Percy Pemberton 738 (251-258-229), Chas. Tugwell 712, Milt Wesley 708. Roy Keffer got 696, Lyle Bond 685, Ernie Rank 662, Joe Caradonna 661, L. Riley 648, Ed. Gibson 645, Ernie Dewsbury 627, R. LaManche 621, Les McKnight 619, Frank VandenBergh 615, Alvie McKnight 613, Orval Hisey 611, Moe Hall 610, Sid Simmons 604, Ki Curtis 602, Geo. Close 601.

Four sweeps recorded: Metal Workers, Combines, Legion and Office Specialty over Hisey's, Donne's, Dixons and Clover Kickers. Meteors humbled Turkey Catchers 3-1 and Newmarket Dairy routed Hillsdale Dairy by a similar margin.

Press Shop in first place in the Hoffman League with 7-0 over Sheet Metal. Vorclone eased closer to third place with a 5-2 win over Machine Shop. Present standing: Press Shop 36, Machine Shop 35, Sheet Metal 29, Vorclone 26. Roy Smalley got 668 including a 255 single game mark. Frank Daniels second place with a 626, Bill Vanzant 611, Frank VandenBergh 609.

Eva Whitfield headed the Office Specialty Ladies' League with 487 (132-204-151). Others high were Barbara Wilson 481, Florence Callaghan 476. Eva Whitfield's Queens are on top with 14 points, Barbara Wilson's Dubs 8 and Mary Londry's Pins 8.

King City Wrestlers

Bill Brown and Wesley Thomas will represent the King City Wrestling Club at the all-Ontario Novice Wrestling tournament in Toronto Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. The bouts with wrestlers from all parts of the province represented will be staged in the Hart House gym, University of Toronto.

The tournament is the first attempt of the Wrestling Federation of Ontario to declare a novice wrestling champion for all Ontario. Champions in eight classes will be declared. Bill Brown, 17, will carry King City colors into the lightweight division. Bill made a most favorable impression in his bout in the Toronto & District tournament held recently. Wesley Thomas, the other King City standard bearer, is 18, weighs 132 lbs. and has entered the bantam division competition.

The King City Wrestling Club has had a very active season. King sportsman Bob McLeod is coach of the boys and pleased as punch with the progress his charges are making.

Bantams Need Sponsor

Anyone interested in sponsoring a bantam team for O.M.H.A. action? There's just one little crack in the Newmarket minor hockey plans. It concerns our bantams: the usual eight team school league set-up for squirts and pee-wees is again expected to function this year.

Our sports-minded Optimist club plans to foot the bill for a six-team N.H.L. similar to last year and also will sponsor a mid-year team in the O.M.H.A. play-downs. Bill Young and his cohorts have taken the juveniles under their wing. That leaves the bantams out of the picture so far as O.M.H.A. action is concerned. Anyone interested in this phase of the hockey picture can contact Frank Hollingsworth for information. Phone number is 2.

Jrs. Show Strength

When Nobleton begged off from a return scheduled exhibition game with Aurora Juniors Friday, Manager Andy Closs looked in Newtonbrook of the T.H.L. It was one huge mistake for Newtonbrook to lace on their skates in the same arena as Aurora.

Aurora unleashed a torrent of scoring power in their first home appearance to smack down the Brooks 21-3. Bob Forhan, Andy Closs Jr. and Bobbs Cook came up with the hat trick performances to spearhead Aurora's sizzling attack. Grant Edwards, Joe Gasko, Cliff Wansborough and Keith Collings added further woes for the Brooks sniping for two goals each.

Bob Hanna, "Pepper" Martin, Don. Munshaw and Stew. Wilson ekked for singletons. Walt Fines and on. Egan missed the scoring boat but made up for it with a solid blue-line performance. Paul McGuire and Ken. "Joe" Burke shared the goal-keeping show. Al. Edwards pounded home all three goals for the outclassed and out-manned visitors.

Newtonbrook: goal, J. Dold; defense, E. Rhoacik, J. Stevenson; forwards, B. Hioyle, A. Edwards, P. Bowles, B. Gillespie. Aurora: goal, P. McGuire, K. Burke; defense, B. Hanna, W. Fines, C. Wansborough, B. Egan; forwards, A. Martin, D. Munshaw, A. Closs, J. Gasko, B. Cook, G. Edwards, K. Collings, B. Forhan, S. Wilson.

ups 6. Our suggestion re names got across we see. Thanks for the vote of confidence, ladies.

Davis Leather's veteran bowler, Frank Bothwell, demonstrated how to beat par with 697 (145-226-326). Others high were B. Jordan 618, Gord. Tunney 616, Harry Thoms 604. Bothwell's six skunked Tansley's 7-0, Bennington 4-3 over Cullen. Standing: Bothwell 43, Bennington 39, Cullen 34, Tansley 24. Close 601.

Some fine scores turned in by the Ladies' Lawn Bowling League. A tie for first prize. Flo Reilly 624 (172-247-205) and Ann Osborne 624 (170-211-243). Dora McCaffrey 587, Olive Hughson 538, Marg. Brammer 538, Lil Watt 510, Goldie Macnab 504. Hopefuls picked up three points and Trailers one Friday. League standing: Streaks 12, Hopefuls 8, Trailers 4.

Laurina Styke belted the pins at 180-244-237 clip for a 661 to pace the scoring in the Thursday Night Ladies' loop. Six bowlers made the select 500 bracket, Helen Tomlinson 583, Betty Vanzant 555, Bea Walker 534, Ede Hall 518, Olive Hughson 516, Hazel Bennett 511.

Louise Smith pace-set the Wednesday Afternoon Ladies' League with a 603 (150-201-252). Kay Morrison 583 (168-197-218), Helen Taylor 554, Myrtle Dunn 548, Ruby 543, Iris Morton 515, Edna McGrath 505. Mosquitoes lead with 18, Spitfires 15, Vampires 11, Jets 10.

Phil. McInnis slapped down a 642 (152-218-272) scoring barrage to lead the Monday Night Ladies' League. In the 500 circle were Dora McCaffrey 560, Mary Osborne 554, Thelma Sloss 554, Pearl Codlin 552, Helen Tugwell 547, Marion Stark 543, Annie Stickland 538, Mary Austin 531, Jeanne Gattil 528, Maude Rupke 525, Hester Clark 517, Edna McGrath 516, Ag. Gordon 506.

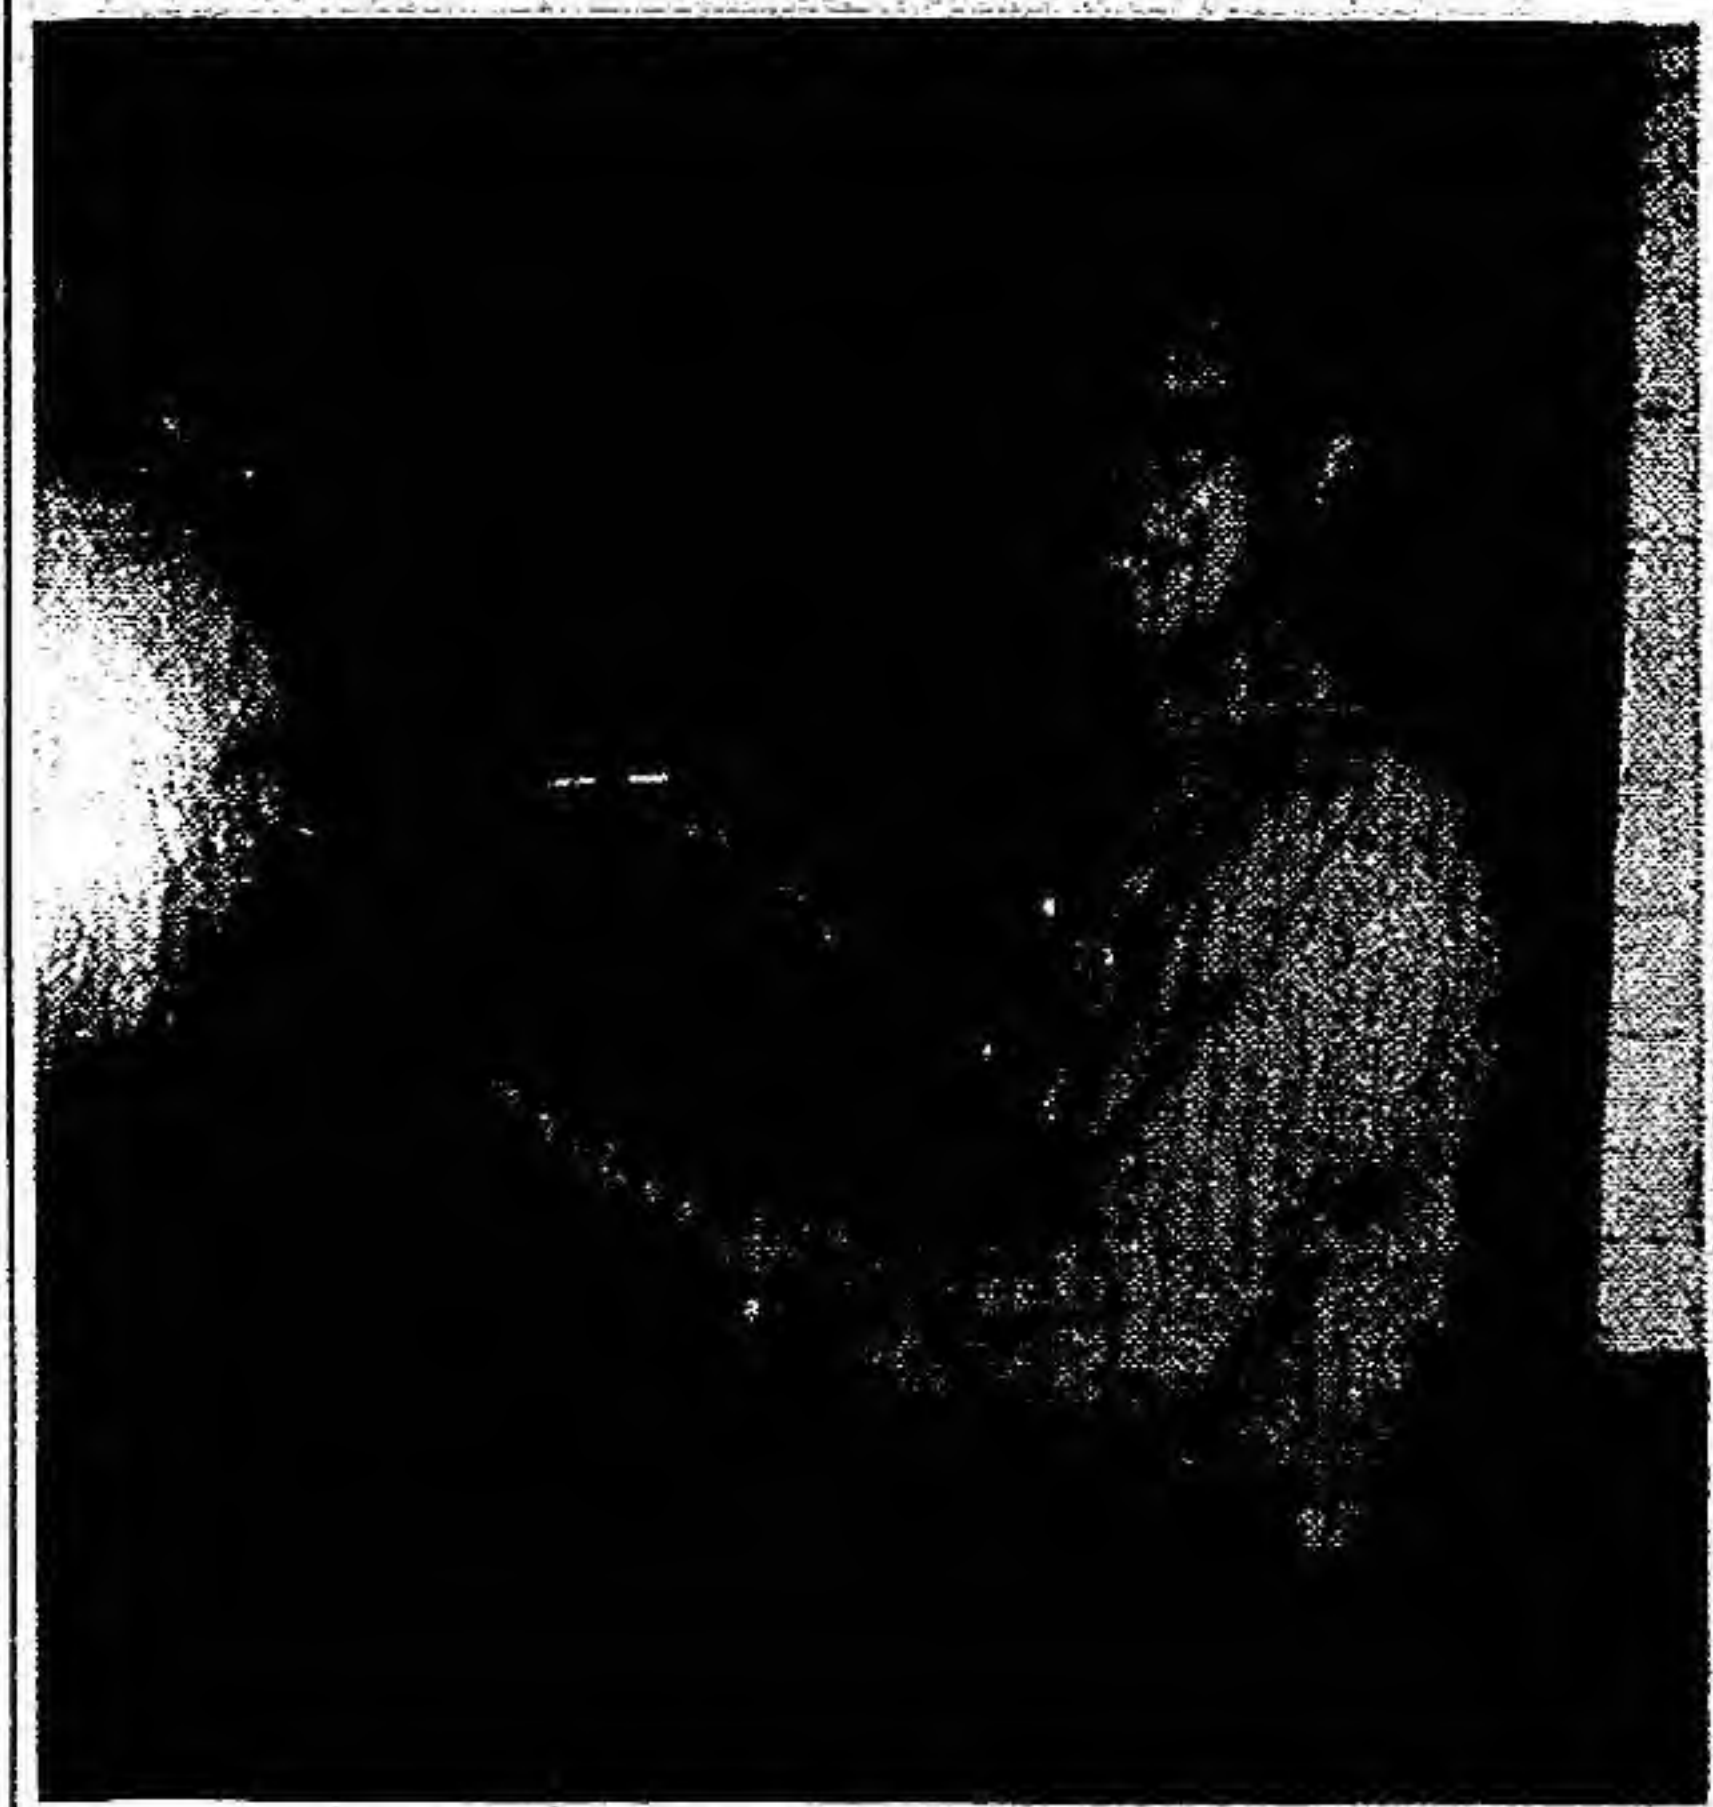

Blue Bonnets swept up 4 points from the Jets; Wildcats conked the Hot Rods 3-1 and Coons were 3-1 winners over 450's. League standing: Coons 24, Blue Bonnets 18, Wildcats 16, Four-Fifties 14, Jets 13, Hot Rods 11.

Here's the man the Spitfires are counting on to make the road to their goal-mouth rougher and rockier this season. It's "Long Jaw" Andrews. Jack comes from Aurora and was with Toledo Mercurys of the U.S.A.H.A. last year, the previous season with St. Catharines Junior A's. He came up through the Aurora minor hockey ranks. He is 21 years of age, 6'2" and weigh 220. Jack was injured in last Thursday's game, not seriously, and coach Al. Shewchuk is hoping his rugged defense buddy will be back in time to belt a few Shipbuilders (out of Collingwood) off the poop deck in the league opener here Nov. 29. (Photo by Haskett)

Del. Pemberton chalks up a 919. It's the high three game mark of the season on the local alleys and top flight bowling here or anywhere. Del. Clipped the pins at 239, 366, 314 to establish the record. It's a record that will take a lot of beating. Del. is a member of the Canadian Legion Bowling team in the Town Industrial League. Trophies For Town Loop

The Newmarket and District Hockey League players will have a chance to shoot for two trophies this year. Grant Fulson, Main St. tobacconist, has offered a trophy for the league's most valuable player. The offer was made this week. Previously Ray Smith, prop. of the Newmarket Sports & Cycle Shop and town league president, donated a trophy for the league's most gentlemanly player.

Aurora Town Hockey League officials are working on a similar scheme and definite advice on these should be forthcoming within a few days.

MERCHANTS SWEATERED

Henceforth, the Merchants of the Aurora Town League will travel under the banner of Case's Aces. Sportsman Bob Case has promised to sweater the team. The sweaters are on order and should arrive in the near future. Cliff Chapman, Aurora bicycle king and ex-town hockey league president, will coach the Aces.

"GREENSHIRTS" VISIT

Aurora juniors have a busy week lined up. Most important is the visit of Ellis Pringle's Sutton "Greenshirts" to Aurora on Friday for an exhibition tilt. Game time is 8:30 p.m. The other contest involves a road trip to Collingwood for a belt at last year's Junior C champions, the Collingwood Greenshirts. Collingwood will pay return visit to Aurora next week.

SKI MEETING NO GO
An attempt was made last week to organize the Newmarket Ski Club for the 1951-52 season. It was no go. The once very active Newmarket Ski Club with a well cushioned membership had fallen to three. At least that was the number at last week's meeting. Co-sponsors of the meeting, John Edwards, Richard Edwards and Wayne Manning, are now discussing the advisability of calling a further meeting when snow conditions warrant such a move.

Newmarket and District Hockey League scrimmaging has been particularly hot and heavy over the past two weeks. Mount Albert all but knocked off the unbeaten, league leading Town Regents last week before losing 8-7. Here is a successful clearing attempt by the Regents as Mounties applied the pressure to get the equalizer. L. to r., Doug Ross (Mount Albert star), Bob "Basher" Groves, Doug Bunn, Jack Smith and goal-keeper Howard Peterman looks over his shoulder to see that Mr. Ross doesn't get the puck out in front of his twine-bungalow. HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

The Spits won a good one Thursday, their first, but for a time it was feared they'd lost a good one for six weeks. Long Jawn Andrews wasn't as badly injured as was first feared—no fractures, just a badly bruised back.

What price exhibition games? Most fans were saying. Thank goodness it wasn't a repetition of last year's start off. Those fractured arms and wrists in the pre-season gallops last term were felt over the rest of the season. Spits brass are hoping Long Jawn will be back to bounce part or all of Eddie Bush's men into Georgian Bay a week hence.

That'll be full time chore too. We're told on the quiet the Shipbuilders are stronger than ever and equipped with rivet hammers.

There was some fine stick work in Thursday's game. Spits manager Mickey Smith hit the keynote "we had hustle and hustle wins hockey games." SJL line (Smith, Johnston, Legge) were tops in pops. Leggie went about his pestiferous checking as usual; Don Smith got that all important tie-breaker after Lindsay found themselves suddenly back in the game; and Bill "Hot-shot" Johnston potted a pair of tallies.

Myles McInnis, Swiftly Todd, Bill Patrick threesome were off in their passing plays—aren't organized—but they'll improve. Laurie Thoms, Don Gibson and Grant Firth cut some astonishing capers but were routed to the corners too often or else twinkled. Firth beat the gun across the blue-line. The blue-line traffic was re-routed to the corners by the back-wall foursome of Al. Shewchuk, Jack Andrews, "Fink" Tunstead and Bill "Scotty" McGhee. Bill Grant, ex-Simcoe junior, was the master-mechanic between the uprights. He'll likely share the shot-blocking duties with Joe Tunney.

Surprise Response: Your Hashman was more or less chomping the breeze about the calibre of an

Forhan Teams Tops

Six man football has been cutting quite a caper on the N.I.S. gridiron this fall. Two major teams, captained by Bob Forhan and Glen Keffer, and four minor sides, captained by Bill Forhan, Jack Mills, Jack Cole and Geo. Davis, were in competition for the N.I.S. six man football championships.

The Forhan brothers, Bill and Bob, piloted their respective teams to championships in both divisions. In the home and home series for the major league crown, Bob Forhan's men won both contests. Team members were Bob Forhan, Grant Morton, Murray Young, Jim Sine, Richard Corner, Jim Scott, John McAlpine and Ron Donor.

Bill Forhan's minor league winners also boasted an unbeaten and untied season to stake their claim to the crown. Team members were Bill Forhan, Don McKnight, Bob Wilson, Don Mahoney, E. Holden, B. Monahan and D. Morton.

Pin-Ups Close Books

Newmarket Junior Ladies' Softball team, the Pin-Ups, finished in the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' circuit, closed the books officially with a social evening and banquet Friday night at the Scout hall. Feature of the evening was the presentation of endgame and crests to all players, coach Fred Dillman and manager Geo. Watt.

Players gifted were Barbara A. Watt, Joanne MacDonald, Joan Quinn, Joan Robinson, Gloria Woodhouse, Betty McArthur, Marilyn Lee, Barbara J. Watt, Isabel Rogers, Barbara Rhyppshiro, Roxy West, Helen Watt (bat-girl) and Mrs. Cecilia Forhan, secretary-treasurer. Charles VanZant, co-workers on the senior ladies' team, made the presentations. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith presented the Newmarket Sports & Cycle Shop Trophy to Catcher Barbara J. Watt, voted the team's most valuable player.

intermediate B team that could be corralled from the town league. But whoops, several chappies have taken us seriously. Well why not? Where to get ice time would be the biggest problem to solve. Here's the present picture in town igloo: Monday, Town League; Tuesday, juvenile; Wednesday, skating; Thursday, Spits; Friday, Optimists minor; Saturday, skaters.

Someone suggested Keswick gardens as home site.

There's an opening for another team in with Alliston, Bradford and Sutton. Leastwise, Alliston and Bradford have indicated they're ready for such a grouping. Ellis Pringle had his Sutton "Greenshirts" on ice here Sunday, and will give definite word this week as to O.H.A. entry. Beeton, fourth team suggested by the O.H.A., are definitely headed for rural in the South Simcoe.

Specialty Forced To Limit

In the early bird special in Newmarket and District twin bill Monday, Mount Albert forced the Office Specialty to gallop lightly to spear a 6-4 win, and Town Regents deluged Vandorf 11-1 to record the first lopsided victory of the campaign.

Mounties were good for a 2-1 first period edge on the strength of Dave Couch's two strikes, the first in ten seconds, and a countering effort by Stan Gibbons. Barney Pearson, Bruce Townsley and Ken Thoms spearheaded a Specialty three-goal assault in the middle round. The teams traded early third period goals as Doug Ross, Mountie ace, hit pay-dirt. Grant Blight hit back for the Specialty. The joint jumped as Dave Couch completed his hat trick at the 17 minute mark to hoist the Mounties with in one of a tie. With better than a minute to go, Murray Edgar hauled off his net-minder. Stan Gibbons coasted in on the empty cage to sink a shot after Howie Ash and Ken Thoms by-passed him into the clear.

Regents had snap in their 11-1 pinning of Vandorf. They shot away at three-goal clip, incensed

HASHMAN AWARD

Norme For Blocking

In this day of high speed on the ice lanes, too often the part of a good speed trap like that of a good checker is forgotten. That was the thought of Hashman last week as he watched the Spits bring home win one of the budding hockey season.

Watching hard-rock, hard-working Normie Legge lay down a blanket of checking, it struck us there and then there was the man for this week's Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass. In our books Normie Legge is the Spits most pestiferous checker. He covers his man like a blanket, gives every game the good old college try and finds time to get his fair share of belts at the opposition net-minder. What more can you ask?

Flyers, Diggers Win

Another pair of blue-ribbon, action-packed contests in the Aurora Town League Tuesday. Results: Vandorf Victory Flyers 5, Case's Aces (Merchants) 4; Ditch Diggers 9, Hotelmen 2.

Trailing 4-1 at the midway mark of the second, Vandorf Flyers staged a fighting comeback to gain their 5-4 win. Bill Kingdon's goal at 15.10 of the third broke the 4-all stalemate. Jack Baber, Andy Lloyd, Dave Richardson and Clem Elias popped in the Flyers' earlier goals. Eugene Rose was the Case-men's number one marksman, counting two first period goals. Gerry Chapman and Lefty Phillips accounted for other Case counter.

League proxy Jim Murray appropriately read the riot act to the teams before the game—cut out the rough stuff, he warned. It went unheeded. Referee Lonnie Doolittle chucked 17 into the sin bin for a total of 48 minutes in penalties. Big explosion came early in the third and earned Tommie Brodie, Gerry Chapman, How Timbers and Don. Brown 5 minutes fighting sentences.

Climaxed by a four-goal scoring spree in the second period, Ditch Diggers smothered the Queen's Hotelmen 9-2. Diggers' passing attack was sizzling. They punched a mountain of rubber at Jimmy Murray in the hotel cage. Charlie Case had a snap behind a tough defensive show by Bill Mundell, Mickey Sutton, Ted Sutton and Earl MacDonald. Diggers scoring was well spread. Bill Mundell, Charlie Sutton, Harold Stephenson, Grant Dawson, Bob Seaton, Ron Smith, Ted Sutton, Don Watson and Tracy Barrager collected one each. Hotelmen revived in the early third period. John O'Mahoney and Ted Marsden beating Charlie Case with close-in drives.

Case's Aces: P. McGuire, G. Chapman, R. Dawson, D. Holman, L. Phillips, T. Brodie, H. Patrick, B. Rose, E. Rose, B. McClellan, T. Cameron, R. Rose.

Victory Flyers: W. Hammond, H. Timber, D. Richardson, C. Stevenson, A. Lloyd, W. Kingdon, F. Hardwick, D. Dinner, J. Baber, E. Richardson, J. Lundy, H. Richardson.

Hotelmen: J. Murray, H. Sutton, J. O'Mahoney, N. Egan, D. Watson, C. Southwood, P. Harman, P. Knowles, D. Harrison, T. Marsden, W. Kirbyson, G. McKinnon.

Ditch Diggers: C. Case, W. Mundell, H. Stephenson, E. MacDonald, M. Sutton, T. Barrage, T. Sutton, C. Sutton, F. Young, D. Watson, G. Dawson, R. Brown, R. Smith, B. Seaton.

NEW STORE OPENS

On Saturday, Nov. 24, Yates Jewellers open their new store at 39 Main St., Newmarket, next to Eaton's order office. Special draw and prizes. Gifts for all. (Adv.)

ed the tempo of four each in the rounds. Battling Bill Ingram, Regent pipe-minder, saw his blossoming shut-out killed in the fifth minute of the third. It was a gift, Cliff Gunn attempting to clear set Clem Elias up in front of the town strings for Vandorf kill-shot. Cliff Gunn hit the jack-pot with five, Mack Cain and Doug Bunn twice, Bob Smith and Harold Gwyn once.

In the extra-curricular activities, Bill Kingston and "Fink" Tunstead provided the preliminary, Jim Preston and Ivan Bray the main event. It was all in fun—no heads were lopped off.

The big test in the Newmarket and District Hockey League comes up for fan attention Monday night. Office Specialty, two points off the top roost, will cross sticks with the unbeaten Town "Regents". In the previous encounter to open the league, Towners elicited for a 3-1 win over their factory rivals. The event promises to jar the arena from its foundations. In the meantime Harry Vandorf's Vandorfers will attempt to notch their first win at the expense of Murray Edgar's Mounties.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Aurora Juniors Ready To Go

Aurora Juniors have received their grouping and manager Andy Glass and coach Charlie Rowntree are quite happy about the arrangement. Hespeler, winners of the 1951 Junior "D" championship, Ferguson, better known for its lacrosse activities, Elmira, the furniture town near Kitchener, Nobleton, and Holton provide the opposition in the group. That should make for a close group race.

Hespeler's ability is known; Nobleton have already demonstrated that they're capable of extending Aurora all the way. Otto Hardwick can be counted upon to come up with a good team as most of last year's O. M. H. A. juvenile champs are ready to go. Ferguson and Elmira compare favorably by way of population and territory and were in action last winter. By cur, Nobleton and Holton are relatively close at hand; the others present jaunts of from 60 to 70 miles one-way, depending upon traffic routes.

That's rather expensive travelling for group games, and history shows that until the playoffs, Aurora and district fans are not great sponsors at the gate. An obstacle like that can be overcome if some of the other centres are hockey-mad. With the exception of Hespeler, Nobleton there's not likely to be very much traffic of followers from the other centres to Aurora's home games. It's the outliers that add the cream to the lake. The schedule will be announced soon.

Sutton Greenshirts play Aurora on Friday night at Aurora arena, and last night the kids went through the acid test at Collingwood (St. Mike's Buzzers beat Collingwood 10-1 last week). Collingwood will be back here next week at a date to be announced. These three games are the type that the townsmen need to get in shape for the group. The Nobleton game was all right for a starter, but Friday's game against Newtonbrook Juniors of the T.H.L. did nothing but provide skating exercise for the team. Tough opposition is what's needed, and Collingwood and Sutton will provide it.

While fairly deep in reserves, it's to be hoped that injuries don't follow the exhibition series as is usually the case. One thing for sure, Aurora looks good in the notes with Paul McGuire and Joe Hurke providing excellent coverage. The addition of Chris Wainborough to the defence is definitely a big improvement to the team. For sheer stick-handling and grey matter, big Chris has few superiors in junior hockey of any type.

Newmarket fans will get a real hint of the chances of the Spits next Thursday, as Collingwood Rhinobirds, the 1951 intermediate "A" champs move on to Stan. Smith's igloo. It should be an attraction to rate a mid-season crowd as there's man, How Timbers and Don. Brown 5 minutes fighting sentences.

Climaxed by a four-goal scoring spree in the second period, Ditch Diggers smothered the Queen's Hotelmen 9-2. Diggers' passing attack was sizzling. Spits Split With Lindsay

"That's the one we were looking for—our first win," said playing coach Al. Shewchuk. The Spits had just come off the ice after pouncing out a 6-4 win over Lindsay "Muskie" here Thursday. To get their win, the Spits had to pump home two goals in the final five minutes. Don Smith and "Swiftly" Todd were the triggermen.

Earlier the Spits were having it much their own way. They built a 2-0 first frame lead on goals by Al. Shewchuk and Bill Johnston. Spits pressed in the second. Laurie Thoms' twine bender on a pass supplied by Grant Firth, and Bill Johnston's second counter, Jack Andrews assisting, cushioned them a 4-1 edge. Spits lapsed momentarily. Lindsay found themselves back in the game as they beat Bill Grant twice in 47 seconds. The invaders struck again in the third to tie it via Vic Corley's tally. The Spits reared back, let fly with a concentrated offensive. That effort, and it was a good one, planted the seeds of victory.

It was first feared it might prove an expensive exhibition win as Spitties ace defenseman Jack Andrews crashed heavily into a goal post and had to be carried from the ice. X-rays later revealed no fractures—but a very badly bruised back. It'll keep the rugged defenseman out of action for ten days.

In the return engagement, the Spits minus Jack Andrews and Normie Legge, dropped a 7-4 decision to the Muskies in Lindsay Saturday night. Myles McInnis, Don Smith, Ken Broughton and Laurie Thoms provided the Spits scoring.

Nobleton, King Top Loop

Nobleton and King ruled the roost in the King-Vaughan Hockey loop after last week. Nobleton humbled Kettleby 5-0; King took Schomberg 7-2; and Kleinburg took Bolton 6-4 for their initial win.

Kettleby couldn't get the puck past Bill Hoover in the Nobleton cage. It was Hoover's second shut-out performance of the season. Nobleton picked up a goal in both the first and second periods and went on a three-goal spree in the final. Noel Ash, a fugitive from Pine Orchard, spearheaded the Nobleton attack with two goals. Glen Atkinson, Tom Dwyer and Bruce Wallis caged singletons.

Sparked by two goal performances by Jim Patton and Ross Follott, Len Shropshire's King division downed Schomberg 7-2. The loss, Schomberg's second, spilled them into the league basement with Bolton. The victory gave King a slice of first place with Nobleton. Mervin McQuarrie, Ken Ham and Bill McCatchen struck for other King markers.

Bill Winters spoiled Tammy Hulme's shut-out with a second period goal and Bill Dyer added home the other Schomberg tally midway through the third. Son Rowntree placed Kleinburg in their 6-4 win over Bolton with two goals. SCL Row, Len Ellis, Bert Lonsdale and Walt Bell completed the Kleinburg scoring show. Ted Dwyer, Jim Wallis, Lewin Dwyer and Bill Dwyer were Bolton snipers.

Fred Speer's Newmarket High School senior gridiron platoon was one of the strongest units to ever don the purple and gold boasting a terrific aerial offensive, precision back-field and a strong line. They ran through an unbeaten season to annex the championship for a second year in a row, defeating Aurora High two straight. Back row, l. to r., Bob Bell, Ken Wheeland, Don Budd, Anthony Iamuello, Don Teivett, Fred Speer (coach). Bob Hanna, Harold Hutchinson, Bob Saunders, Art Gibney, Laurie VanZant; front row, l. to r., Wayne Robinson, Jack Vance, Jerry Hugo, Doug Smith, Ron Connell, Dave Huntley, Ray Ingram, Ron Lockhart, Taylor Gilbert. Reason For Assessment Cuts Should Be Made Public: Rec. Comm. Grant Increased

The chief topic of conversation in town at this time is the municipal elections. Old-timers say they don't recall a time when more interest was shown in council matters. Such interest has, of course, come about as the results of bungling and muddling which has characterized council business during the year. It has been a record year for bungle and muddle.

Who will retire? Who will run again? These are questions that can be answered only after the nominations are closed and the race begins. We have learned not to ask members of council what their intentions are, for they play games of hide and seek until the last minute. Mr. Murray told us quite definitely that he had no intention of seeking any office this year.

Now we hear that Mr. Murray is in fact going to run again. Apparently he has undergone a change of intentions. Where he formerly said "No" he now says "Yes." This change-about state of mind has been so evident in the conduct of council business in the past year that we are hardly surprised at one more change of front.

But why did Mr. Murray say "Yes" when he had said "No"? Perhaps the answer could be found in the report that Mr. Lorne Evans would run in place of Mr. Murray who, as reported on his own statement, was retiring? It could be that Mr. Murray objects to Mr. Evans succeeding him? It could be that Mr. Murray thinks he can keep Mr. Evans out? It could be that Mr. Murray is quite wrong in his possible calculations.

Then there's Mayor Bell. Of course, he's running again. We were told the other day that Mr. Bell will be mayor of Aurora for the next ten years. Seems he's taken a lease on the job! Looks as though the worse they do the longer they propose to stay. Bell, the planning board, and the Banner! O Aurora! Thy children weep for thee!

Reasons Not Stated
The Court of Revision knocked $10,000 off the assessment on one of Reeve Cook's properties, made by Assessor E. R. Good, and many questions are being asked about it. There must be good reasons why the Court of Revision made such a large reduction in the instance of Reeve Cook and some others, but since those reasons have not been made public people just go on guessing, and such guessing doesn't add to Reeve Cook's prestige, since the Court of Revision was composed of Mayor Bell and four other members of council.

We suggest the Court make their reasons for the reduction public, in fairness to themselves and Reeve Cook. Even the other paper which circulates in town, and has abused the assessor by describing him as "arrogant", etc., can hardly plead for secrecy in such circumstances.

Mr. Good has assessed in Stouffville for the past five years. This year only two appeals were registered against his rulings. For the present year he has also assessed Erin, with a population of 637. It is interesting to note that in Erin the assessments for the year 1950 amounted to $283,000. This year Mr. Good increased the assessments to $484,000. Despite such a large increase, only four appeals against his rulings were brought before the Court of Revision, and all were sustained in his favor.

We certainly think that the large reductions made in respect of some Aurora industries should be explained by the Court of Revision, in the public interest.

Mr. Good is not an amateur assessor. He is an expert who has had many years' experience in the difficult work. We were convinced that he tried to do a job in Aurora and went a long way on the road of success. Aurora citizens have talked for years about the inequalities of local assessment. We are glad to say here that we have heard many favorable comments concerning Mr. Good's "fairness", from those who had increased made in their assessments.

The other paper which circulates in town was completely inaccurate when it described Mr. Good as being "trapped" by his questioners. We heard him relentlessly grilling for four hours on the evening of October 29, by the representatives of industries in town. Not once was he "trapped." He had an answer for all his detractors. He is, in fact, an able assessor who obviously wants a square deal for everybody.

Recreation Commission
A meeting of the recreation commission was held on Thursday evening, November 15, under the chairmanship of Mr. Don Glass. Among other matters discussed was a broadening of the program of the commission which would enable the inclusion of a greater number of adults enjoying recreational facilities.

P. E. Perryment, recreation director and arena manager, reported an increase in the grant from the education department. In place of the $3,500 grant, this had now been increased to $4,800. The recreation manager expressed the hope that life-saving classes might shortly be introduced at St. Andrew's college.

The commission heard with pleasure that the Legion and the Rotary club were prepared to assist in providing sweaters, etc., for children ranging in ages from 10 to 14, who were members of junior teams.

Councillor Corbett spoke strongly in support of free Sunday skating. The chairman suggested that Mr. Corbett bring the matter up in council if he were dissatisfied with the arena board's ruling in the matter.

Got A Ticket
A resident on George street persuaded some friends living at North Bay to spend a weekend in Aurora and see what a lovely and friendly place it was. The friends duly arrived. Their car was parked in front of the residence of the host and hostess. The friends who had come to enjoy Aurora's friendly welcome got a parking ticket!

We are told that in summer-time geese and hens run all over the lawn on the George St. resident, but the unwelcome, feathered visitors never get a ticket. And, in spite of many complaints, nothing is done about the wandering geese and hens. Looks as if another by-law is necessary. Perhaps the other paper circulating in town will press for the by-law?

Penalty For Opinions?
A tradesman in town opposed the meters. Previous to a declaration of his opinions on these "scraps of iron" that clutter up the sidewalks, he used to get town orders averaging around $75 a month. Since the meters were installed his orders have dropped to around $20 a month. Seems as if you mustn't open your mouth on any council question, or if you're a merchant you'll be punished in the wallet!

Mayor Bell Throws His Hat Into 1952 Election Ring: Asst. Town Clerk Appointed

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, Nov. 19, when all members were present. In the course of the evening Mayor Bell stated he had a brief announcement to make, and this was to the effect that he "was throwing his hat into the ring for another term of office during 1952."

Considerable correspondence was read by the town clerk, including letters from the T. Sisman and Collis leather companies protesting the amounts of their assessments after reductions had been made. Council agreed that no discussion was possible on these letters as the decisions made by the Court of Revision were final.

Dr. Boulding and Dr. Henderson were back at council in connection with the petition for the installation of sewers, and their representations produced a long debate. A prolonged discussion took place also over a by-law covering the sale of the Mechanics' Hall to the Aurora Lions club. Sewers for Kennedy St., west, and the Mechanics' Hall by-law constituted the major business of the evening.

Argument Pro And Con
Dr. Boulding argued that the installation of the sewers would greatly increase possibilities of expansion in the area. A further letter from the engineer's department showed that the cost of installation would be $10,000.

Councillors Fielding and Jones objected on the grounds that the town should not be burdened with the expense, an opinion which was shared by the deputy-revee. Dr. Boulding retorted to the effect that it seemed to him that council appeared not to mind placing the burden of the cost on the few, but hated to put it on the many.

Councillor Jones said that he agreed that Dr. Boulding had made a strong point in connection with George street. Dr. Henderson said the petitioners were willing to undertake as much of the cost as possible but were unwilling to accept the whole costs.

The end of a long discussion resulted in a majority vote agreeing to a motion moved by Councillor Fielding, seconded by Councillor Gundy, that a sanitary sewer be put in on Kennedy St., west, as petitioned for, at cost to property owners under local improvement act. This successful motion followed a previous motion by deputy-revee Murray, seconded by Councillor Davies, that the matter be held over for further study, Mr. Murray having said that the more they argued the less he felt like reaching a decision.

Mechanics' Hall
The by-law introduced by Councillor Davies concerned chiefly the nature of the future government of the hall and what restrictions might be laid down in the by-law. It was felt that the claims of organizations and other activities being carried on in Aurora must have first preference. The views of each member of council was asked for by the chairman of the by-laws committee, Councillor Davies, and it was agreed that the management of the hall could be confidently left in the care of the Lions club.

The by-law will be further considered by council and the Lions club, and when this has been concluded it will be presented to the voters.

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT

Nomination night is on Friday, November 30. Elections will take place on Monday, December 10. Until this year the electors had two weeks in which to make-up their minds on whom they would entrust the affairs of their town in council, the hydro and the public school.

Councillor Davies put an end to this reasonable amount of election time when he piloted through council a by-law cutting down the period allowed to ten days, which includes two Saturdays and two Sundays. There are over 2,000 voters whom candidates might want to contact, and in the time now allowed that just cannot be done.

There was no question asked about the by-law. Councillors accepted it with the submission of baby-sitters who, having gotten their charges to sleep, are careful not to awake them. We could see no sense in the by-law. What useful purpose could it serve the electors? It might, of course, help some of the old brigade to slip back into office again before too many questions were asked.

It is not too early to impress upon the electors the imperative need of getting out to vote. Not more than 60 percent of the voters turned out last year. In Ward 5, for example, where Mr. Davies himself resides, only 167 votes were cast out of a possible 301.

In Ward 1 194 votes were cast out of a possible 384; Ward 2, 198 of a possible 413; Ward 3, 374 of a possible 618; and Ward 4, 224 votes were cast out of a possible 378.

The above figures show clearly the need for a great improvement. The increasing interest that is being taken in council matters should be driven home at the polling booths on December 10. Only by the use of votes can the citizens register their opinions on the conduct of town business.

THE FINAL COUNT

The final results of the Court of Revision clearly show the assessor, Mr. E. R. Good, has done a good job on the Aurora assessments. The Court appears to have given his decisions about an 80 percent endorsement, although some of the Court's reductions seem considerable. It would be interesting to have their reasons for some of these reductions, notably in the case of Reeve A. A. Cook, who in one instance was assessed at $22,500 and enjoyed a reduction to $12,700. No one has proclaimed a greater desire to work for what he calls the "good of the town" than Reeve Cook; but none was more vociferous than he when it came to a question of opposing the assessments made on his properties. Whatever other "good" he was prepared to do for the town, he made it clear that he would not accept Assessor Good's valuations without the strongest protests. We have never heard him speak with greater vehemence than he did in denouncing the assessor's figures.

His protests proved abundantly successful, as the reductions made by the Court of Revision prove. The Court of Revision was composed of Mayor Bell, Deputy-Reeve Murray, and Councillors Corbett, Davies and Fielding.

The assessor fought a good fight for equality of assessment burdens without any sympathy being shown him from several quarters. The other paper circulating in town attacked him in the following terms: "Assessment in Aurora has been handled just about as badly as it is possible for a thing to be handled. And, it must be asserted, the dictatorial and offensive methods used by the town's present assessor have contributed in very large measure to that situation."

AURORA'S "COCKTAIL BAR"

The idea that the Aurora Lions club might rename the Mechanics' Hall, and call it the "Lions Den", aroused one Aurora lady into a condition close to rage, immediately she heard of it. The lady we are quoting is one of the younger old-timers, and she has played her part in the cultural affairs of the town.

"Lions Den," she ejaculated. "Why, whoever thought up that one is just a little crazy. It sounds to me like the name of a cocktail bar. Surely the Lions won't cut out the old name for a ridiculous one like that. The name will scare all the younger kids in town."

As we suggested last week, any proposal to change the name of the hall is certain to cause controversy, in which the excellent work of the Lions club may suffer. Most people are conservative in the matter of names. The name, Mechanics' Hall, may not be euphonious, but it has been where it is for over 70 years. The name is part of Aurora itself.

To call it the "Lions Den," as though it were in fact the sole property of the Lions club, would be a misnomer. The fact is that the town sold the property at a token price of $2,500 on the understanding that it would be used as a community centre, at such times as the Lions were not making use of it for club activities. The hall was one of the town's capital assets and for years had been valued at $10,000.

In the controversy that followed the decision of the council to rent or sell the hall to industry, we strongly supported the Lions taking over the property as an alternative to its being handed over to the recreation commission. The major idea was its future use as a community centre.

We did not surmise that there would be any proposal to wipe out the historic name given to it by its originators. We think that "Lions Den" would be as inappropriate as it would be foolish.

Malcolm Council Resolves To Petition The Senate For Repairs To Pot-Holes

An emergency meeting of the Spruce squirrel council was held on Friday afternoon, Nov. 16, in the council maple tree. Dr. Malcolm presided and all members were present with the exception of Councillor Two-by-Four, who sent a message of regret for non-attendance. Others present included Mrs. Geraldine Malcolm, Major Peck, Mr. Fabius Puff, publisher of "Puff's Periodical", and Capt. Eavesdropper, publisher and editor of "The Searchlight".

Mayor Malcolm said the emergency meeting had been called in connection with the numerous pot-holes on Maple and Spruce streets. The deplorable condition of these pot-holes had been brought to the attention of the squirrel community in a tragic way. One of their best-known citizens, Thepus Razzo, had recently died in consequence of being run over by a motor car, which had plunged into one of the pot-holes.

The mayor said that Thepus had fallen into the pot-hole and before he could extricate himself from the danger-zone had been run over. The occurrence had filled the whole squirrel community with a feeling of gloom. He understood the motor car had broken an axle, but the vehicle was insured. There was no insurance of the life of Thepus.

Dr. Malcolm said that matters had reached a serious stage if a peace-loving squirrel couldn't cross Spruce street without the risk of losing its life. He would ask council to petition the Aurora Senate.

"Get Goin' Campaign"

Councillor Grub said he was sitting on a limb of his tree on Spruce street when the fatality occurred. Thepus, he said, was crossing the street and seemed his usual self. Next thing he saw was Thepus in the hole, and in a flash the car came along. There was strong wind blowing at the time and he noticed a great amount of newspaper swirling around. A small wheelbarrow which Thepus had been using was just near the hole. He believed Thepus was using the wheelbarrow to ship the newspaper home.

Mrs. Achling Slow, wife of deputy-reeve Slow, was granted permission to address council. Mrs. Slow said she too was a witness of the sad affair. She said it seemed to her that Mr. Razzo was pushing his wheelbarrow when he fell into the pot-hole. The wheelbarrow was filled with paper. She believed it was the special supplement that Capt. Eavesdropper had just put out. "I've issued no supplement," Capt. Eavesdropper promptly ejaculated. "It wouldn't need a wheelbarrow to bring home my four-page paper," he said.

"What about you, Mr. Puff?" asked Dr. Malcolm.

"Well, I did issue a supplement, but it was not that big," replied Mr. Fabius Puff. "It was my intention to make it 100 pages, but owing to mechanical troubles I had to keep it down to 80. My reasons for the special issue is that I'm ankle-deep in a 'Get Up and Get Goin' Campaign'."

"Get Up and Get Goin' where?" asked Dr. Malcolm.

"I dunno," answered publisher Puff. "It's just a regular booster. It's been done all the time." "Better get on with what we are to do about the pot-holes," Reeve Rup suggested.

Smothered In Paper?

Mayor Malcolm was about to act on the Reeve's suggestion when Professor Crystal Windows of the planning board requested that he might be heard. His request being granted, Mr. Windows said there was certain circumstantial evidence that might point to an error of judgment on the part of Mr. Razzo. It could be that he was so deeply immersed in the pages of the supplement that he never saw the pot-holes. Pot-holes were not matters for the planning board but for the Senate.

COUNCIL REVIEW

Aurora's Most Urgent Needs Are A New Mayor And Some Changes In Council Members

Twilight has fallen on the 1951 town council. The shadows are deepening over its fading future. We have heard it said more than once that it has been the weakest council in Aurora's history. Certainly enough time has been spent on council business. Regular meetings twice a month, lasting four hours and more. And a considerable number of special meetings thrown in.

How much has been achieved? Well, they started the year with a $60,000 loan to carry on with until taxes were collected. The town revenue fund balance sheet ending December 31, 1950, showed cash in hand amounting to $10 and cash in bank $4,878.27. Total $4,888.28.

Debt service loans have reached all-time record dimensions $800,000, for the new deluxe district high school, and $250,000 for the remodelling of the old high school for public school uses.

The year began ominously in January with the firing of old-time servant, William Large; later the quitting of the town clerk; and other quittings as the year advanced. Messes and muddles in connection with the planning board, the meters, the hydro and the building by-laws. No clear thinking evident throughout the whole period under review.

Direction Absent

There has been no clear, business-like direction from the chair. We are sure on one thing: Until Mr. Bell is replaced by a better chairman, there is no likelihood at all of a better system of business being carried on in council. Our remarks are not personal in any way. We are concerned with Mr. Bell as a public representative, as mayor of the town of Aurora.

We say this without equivocation or reservation of any kind, that until this town elects a mayor who can handle business efficiently and expeditiously, things will go on as they are. We have sat in for nearly two years as reporter and press commentator on town business, and we are sure that Mr. Bell will never make a good mayor as we are sure that pumpkins won't grow on maple trees.

The first essential need in this town is a new mayor. Council work is not hard to learn. No genius is required to master its techniques. But good, well-informed business direction is essential in a good chairman. The office of mayor is the most important in council. And whether this pleases or offends must not deter us from our honest opinion, namely, that Mr. Bell just hasn't got what it needs for the office of mayor.

Time For Changes

If the people of Aurora want their town run on business-like lines, the time is ripe for some changes in the personnel of council. They should elect a new mayor and some new members of council. We had hoped that Aurora's first woman councillor would have made a better showing.

Mrs. Fielding disappointed many people by opposing the return of the Mechanics' hall to the citizens, by whom it was built more than 70 years ago. The records would show, we believe, that only one member of council was against selling or renting the people's hall to industry, namely, Councillor Jones.

Mrs. Fielding has lacked consistency as a member of council. She moved a motion, which was carried, that the hydro commissioners be ordered to make their building conform with the town building by-laws. And a few weeks later it was the same Mrs. Fielding who went back on her motion and allowed the hydro commissioners to do just as they wanted.

The hydro just didn't take any notice of council, for the same week that orders were given by the council, that the projecting wall and canopy should be removed, the hydro put in their large pane of window glass. Now they have planted their shrubs. Why was the hydro able to do these things? Because the council was too weak to order otherwise.

People are now saying that "the hydro is boss of the town." It looks as if what the people say is true.

But it needn't be true if this town had a mayor and council that could stand up to the hydro. The hydro is a public utility serving the town. The town is the hydro's master. At least it would be if there were a strong enough council to make it so.

No public explanation has ever been given why Councillor Fielding suddenly switched from one side to the other. Consistency is essential in public representatives. Just being on the council isn't enough.

Planning Board Expenses

As long as the present mayor is in office the planning board will stay. If a vote of the people of Aurora were taken on the planning board it would be wiped out, as effectively as some of the assessments have been wiped out on big industries. And that's saying some!

No more money should be voted to the planning board. Thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money have been frittered away on the activities of this pompous little body which is answerable to nobody except a department at Queen's Park. What use is the planning board? All it has done is to waste the time of council, for which the people pay.

If the present zoning by-law is passed it will stay. Future councils cannot rescind it. And passed it will be unless there are changes in council. We have seen the thing happen before. A planning board by-law was passed in August, 1950; rescinded in November, 1950; and passed again in February, 1951, when the mayor and his followers got back.

The zoning by-law is different. Once it is passed no council can rescind it. It stays for keeps. That fact should not be forgotten. And on the advice to council of the town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee, it will make trouble in Aurora for years to come.

They Deserve Support

Councillors Corbett and Jones are not spectacular members of council. But neither are twits and shifts around like straws in the wind. They stand firm against any wind of opposition once their minds are made up. Councillor Jones did good work for the library; and both he and councillor Corbett stood firm in their stand against the meters. They are what can truly be described as "people's representatives." Both stood firm on their vote to compel the hydro to fall in line.

Councillor Gundy brings to council business a mental alertness which is commendable. We have not always agreed with him, but he has talents which we like. He can give reasons for his decisions. He is no "yes" man. We have heard him stand up to the mayor and to the town solicitor. Until we find a better man, we shall vote for Bob Gundy. We believe him to be unservably honest in his opinions.

He is youthful. When he clears himself of planning board entanglements, and comes to recognize council as the supreme local authority, he will make a good councillor.

'Go Slowly' In Whitchurch Re-assessment

Considerable discussion was held on measured assessment at the regular meeting of Whitchurch Twp., council Nov. 10. The discussion was led by Deputy-reeve Timbers, and stemmed from a recommendation tabled by the recent Court of Revision on the township assessment.

It was stated that the operation of a measured assessment system was definitely going to cost double the present operating costs, but that nevertheless numerous adjacent municipalities were considering taking up the system.

"There's a lot of questions about the system I'd like to have answered before going into it," stated Councillor McCarron.

"I can't see why it wouldn't work out because the mill rate should be less if the assessment is higher," commented Councillor Baycroft.

Council all agreed that they should proceed slowly with any adoption of the new system of assessment. The Court of Revision recommended the measured system in order to obtain a better balance between farm property and small property owners.

Council sanctioned the payment of $92, the Whitchurch share of a levy for the newly organized Upper Holland Conservation. Total levy is $527. Miscellaneous accounts passed by council for payment amounted to $943.65.

Solicitor J. D. Lucas will be instructed to complete a bylaw covering an agreement between the township and York County for land purchased from the Forfar Bros., corner of the 9th con., for county road-widening purposes. The solicitor was also instructed to make arrangements to prosecute all parties violating township bylaws regarding the converting of summer cottages into permanent dwellings without a permit to do so.

Payment of $300 was authorized to Geo. Rodanz for a valuable calf killed by dogs.

Elmer Starr, local weed inspector, reported to council on his year's work which carried him over practically every road in the township, travelling nearly 1,000 miles. Favorable comment on Mr. Starr's work was conveyed from Mr. Frank Marritt, County Weed Inspector.

What They Are Saying In Aurora

Thank the Lord we're not punished for our opinions, good or bad!

Walter Johncox

Walter Johncox came to Aurora about a year and a half ago to take a position in Bill Thompson's store. He has already made himself most active in several town activities, among them the 50-50 club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is a very likeable young man of considerable ability and opinions of his own on civic matters. We like him very much. We were sorry we could not arrange his dinner invitation to the J.C.C. in the Masonic hall on Tuesday evening last. We found the J.C.C. bulletin very interesting.

Everett Kerr

Many people are saying that if Mr. Everett Kerr had not come to council and asked Mayor Bell why he had banned the press from seeing the folder of business, nothing more would have been heard of it. Certainly councillors took their time over it! The first news we gave the public on the ban appeared in an editorial we published away back on September 27. Week by week we kept hammering at council, but nothing was done. One member of council did tell us he intended to bring it up "at the next meeting", after our editorial appeared. But he didn't keep his word and we did not remind him of it.

There was no delay after the delegation appeared! Council had to take action then or risk being classified with the mayor in his self-appointed role of press censor. Of course, the matter would have been brought up on nomination night, and that isn't far away.

Many people have expressed appreciation for Mr. Kerr's public-spirited action on such an important issue as the freedom of the press.

Christmas Recordings

Clifford Griffiths tells us he has been busy making recordings for Christmas surprises for relatives and friends at home and abroad. These voice recordings provide an exceptional means of bringing the speakers into intimate contact with friends and relations whom they may not have seen in years. Mr. Griffiths has the most modern equipment for the job and to speak into the recording machine is both easy and pleasant.

We suggest that you give him a call by telephone, either at number 8 or 520m, and ask him to tell you how you can make a recording of your voice, either to add to your library of recordings or to use as a Christmas reminder.

Craft Shop Varieties

As we pointed out some months ago, John Martin of 99 Wellington street is a certified woodworker and the creator of numerous utilities for the home. Lately he has added to his list some attractive footstools that would make a real Christmas gift. Table lamps are also included among his creations, and these are very attractive in design.

Besides these he makes coffee and end tables and kitchen cupboards in his workshop on Wellington street. If you are puzzled in thinking of practical gifts, look in and see him.

The Story Of SHARON

By ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the twenty-fourth instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

War of 1812

The continuity of the 18th century passed to that of the 19th. In 1792 the first governor of Upper Canada had arrived at Kingston. This was Major John Graves Simcoe. Here had come a man possessed of abilities necessary to a period when a nation is in the formative transition - he was determined, clear-sighted and far-seeing. Intensely loyal - he had fought in the Revolution in command of the Queen's Rangers of Virginia and he fully anticipated further war.

In fact, knowing at first hand conditions and aspirations to the south, he had warned the home authorities that another war was inevitable before the colony could feel established. When he found that the western forts, Detroit and Niagara, were to be given up to the United States, he decided that "the chief town of a Province must not be placed under the guns of an enemy's fort." On the shore of Lake Ontario had once stood an old French Fort, Toronto. This also had the advantage of a good harbor. In every way this seemed an excellent situation, so here in the woods Governor Simcoe established the capital of Upper Canada, and changed its name to YORK.

He prepared in such strategic ways as he thought best and as he could for the contingency of war. As a soldier he realized that roads were of first necessity for transportation of troops. With this purpose in mind he had Yonge Street surveyed and opened in 1794. Its military value was doubly important in that it opened a direct route to the northern waters. The anchor at Holland Landing is a souvenir of the war of 1812. The hauling of that huge mass of metal - in measurement 16 feet long with arms which extended 10 feet from tip to tip - would constitute a bit of skillful manoeuvring at any time. At that time in the history of Yonge Street it required both engineering and brawn. It was fastened to what the boys would call a catapult which was used as a stone boat and drawn up through the underbrush by 12 yoke of oxen. The trip required four days.

As in the case of many historical struggles the nominal causes were not the real causes. For long England had been in a death grapple with Napoleon Bonaparte, and the retaliatory measures of the respective contestants, the Berlin Decrees and the Orders-in-Council, bore heavily on neutral nations. This was particularly true of the United States, which already had almost monopolized the carrying trade of the world.

Future Homes
Meanwhile around Sharon memories of the Revolution were receding. These law-abiding, peaceful and loyal settlers were intent on a main purpose, to establish their homes for the future. Oxen-drawn wagons filled with settlers' effects still were arriving, and heads of families and sons with their families enlarged the personnel. But down at the front, along the Lakes and the St. Lawrence River, and rising from the very roots of the trouble which had caused these people to migrate to Canada, the war clouds deepened.

That inflation which sprang from the preconceived idea of a certain element still intoxicated with the lust of war, and coupled with the "lingering and longing" desire to round off the country by the acquisition of British territory, were the real causes of the trouble. It had constituted an election pledge by President Madison to declare war against Great Britain, and so sure of themselves were they that Jefferson described it to be a "mere matter of marching", while Eustis, the secretary, of war, declared "We can take the Canadas without soldiers!"

Militia Bill
In 1812 the Legislative Assembly at York was aware that the war situation had become alarming, so the "Militia Bill" was passed. This authorized the Governor "to embody 2,000 bachelors between the ages of 18 and 25, for three months in the year, and in case of invasion or imminent danger thereof, to retain them for one year." Before this was organized or the men equipped, war was declared.

The time of every threatened crisis has brought forth a strong leader. In this case it was the heroic Major General Sir Isaac Brock, Acting Governor of Upper Canada and Commander of the Forces. As Major Simcoe before him had anticipated this trouble, Brock, too, had warned the Home Authorities and had done what he could with hampered means, to prepare to meet it. On his part Brock well knew he could depend upon the loyalty of the mass of the people, a loyalty which transcended two centuries to the Old Land. In an address to the legislature he reminded them "that the free spirit of a free people will never die!"

Brock's Volunteers
Impeded by the vacillation of the powers at Quebec, Brock turned to his volunteers. While any attempt at evasion was punished by stern measures, at the same time he considered their difficulties and endeavored to give them opportunity to harvest the crops, and in this they were aided and strengthened by the devoted efforts of the women. Speaking in 1840, in vivid remembrance of this leader, Chief Justice Robinson said, "It would have required more courage to refuse General Brock than to go with him wherever he would lead!" Historians, writing of the war of 1812, have reiterated that "almost the entire population was drawn into the vortex," farmers, mechanics and gentlemen. Of this widely scattered settlement of 500,000 against an organized republic of 8,000,000, the community of Sharon gallantly did its part.

This unsuccessful attempt to conquer Canada was in the early phase when the life of this courageous leader, Isaac Brock, was terminated by a bullet in the chest. His last command: "Push on the York Volunteers!" has become immortal. The results of this war have been clearly portrayed on the pages of history in the consolidation of British sentiment and by the bringing closer the two inhabiting races, and unconsciously laid the foundation for a permanent Federal Union.

War of 1812
A manuscript left by the late Titus Willson, to be quoted, describes conditions in Sharon. "In 1812 the war between England and the United States was a great drawback to Canada, from which it did not recover for several years. We were often called out to do garrison duty for a month or two, and by the time we had got fairly home we would perhaps be called out again. By such continued interruptions there was not enough raised upon the farms to supply the people and the troops, but large quantities of provisions were brought into the country from Europe.

"As soon as peace was made the British government stopped sending over supplies. I remember that very many of us joined and sent a man from Newmarket to Genesee River for a schooner load of flour. We got two barrels, which cost us when laid down at Sharon, $13.00 per barrel. This, however, did not last until the next harvest. We were, therefore, under the necessity of cutting our wheat before it was fully ripe. We pounded it as best we could, cleaned and boiled it and ate it with sugar and milk when we had these. We had but one cow at that time, but we had a good deal of sugar. Pork was quite out of the question. The troops had eaten our hogs, so we had to wait until others grew. I knew pork to bring $80 per bar-

ACROSS THE SEA

Newmarket, England

By R. F. JEFFERY
Editor, Newmarket Journal

The triumphant tour of Canada by Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh was watched very closely at home, and the reports of their warm welcome at every point has given a feeling of renewed assurance. In a troubled world it is good to find this outward expression of the bond that exists throughout the Commonwealth.

One reaction here, just to show how a relatively small incident can set a fashion, arose from the picture of the Princess and her husband taking part in a square dance. It is now all the mode, and no program of dance music on the radio is without a sample. My dancing efforts these days are few and far between, but I fully expect to find out how it is done before the winter is over.

And over also is the general election. It is somewhat satisfying to the old ego to be able to reflect that my last letter contained a pretty accurate forecast of the result. I am not an out-and-out, one-party politician, and considering that the Socialist government had been very severely criticized, with the majority of the national press turning full guns on it, I was surprised at the faith that still remained in it when talking quietly to folk. That was the reason for believing that the swing would not be so great as many anticipated. Outwardly a movement can be unpopular, as was undoubtedly the case with the Socialist government, yet still retain a hard core of support.

Subsequent events have been a shock to those of flimsy knowledge who believed that with the Conservatives in power a magic wand would remove rationing, controls and find the countryside suddenly sprouting with houses. The immediate picture is grim and it is well that parliament is to have a long Christmas recess so that the new government may get to grips with the problems involved. A new cabinet taking office at such a time, needs freedom from the every day sitting, really to get down to matters.

My object really, however should be to bring you news of this Newmarket. Truth to tell, the old town goes on its everyday life fairly well to pattern. It has been a bad year with the horses, and one could hardly describe us as thriving, but the Christmas goods are appearing in the shops, which is always a brightening feature.

Our grand new post office opens today, and this will be one of the first air-mailed letters to pass through it. As I have mentioned before, it is a notable event, for the old post office was bombed, and in the intervening years the Memorial Hall, the only public hall of any size, has been used. hall to public use makes us all feel that little bit better. The new building is a worthy addition to our High Street. From the brilliance of its interior lighting as I passed last night, it will leave no room for complaint in that direction. An interior inspection has confirmed the official opinion that it is the most modern in the country.

Ever buy a car from this angle?

SURE, a trim new Buick makes a might pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by.

But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road.

You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you.

You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof—and a principal reason for the ever-level Buick ride.

But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick—the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength.

So when you look at the beauty of a Buick—the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the money saving ability of its Dynaflow Drive—don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all.

And whether you're looking at a Buick CUSTOM, a Buick SUPRA or a mighty ROADMASTER, don't overlook the fact that a '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight.

Better come see us first chance you get—and find out what a smart buy this is—from every angle.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car.

FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head 8-cylinder engines... Roadmaster, 158 hp; Super 154 hp; Custom, 129 hp; Super and Custom with Dynaflow, 128 hp.

PUSH-BAR FRONTEND—combines sleek style and unsurpassed protection.

WHITE-BLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night.

TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control.

4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGS—cushions ride, eases servicing work.

SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum.

DIMAMING STYLING—sleaked, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models.

Plus Self-Locking Luggage Lid, Step-On parking brake, Two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride ride, 14-Piece engine mounting, Body by Fisher.

A Swedish scientist has discovered that cows have a surplus of commercially usable heat. He has calculated that 18 cows have enough heat left over after caring for their needs to warm a five-room house. He is reported to have actually set up a system for piping the excess heat to his home.

There are some difficulties immediately apparent to such an arrangement. A friend of ours who has a few cows says that he has known for a long time that they had excess heat, and that he had considered piping it to the house but his plans had been delayed because he hasn't yet figured out a form of thermostatic control.

"After all," he points out, "you can't turn bossy off and on like an oil furnace, and even if the gals do generate enough heat for a five-room house, there are times when the wind is blowing and you want to open the drafts." He's not quite sure how this could be done with a cow.

Additional comment comes from the west. "Old settler," says the Old Settler. "Out here in the Prairie Provinces we used to build our homes so we could live over the cows but sometimes, when she hit 50 below and the wind was 50 m.p.h. horizontally, we used to light the stove too."

Yah sure, Johnny!

Old Settler says that the breath of the cow was highly thought of and supposed to ensure good health and a pleasant odor. He also says that when he used to hang cabbages in the barn to keep them from freezing, the combination left something to be desired in the way of sweetness.

This whole business of heat from cows offers a considerable field for speculation. Just supposing that they do figure out a way to heat a house with the cows, what a bang it would give the breeders' association. "Buy a Holstein. She's better than a stoker." Or "A Guernsey makes a Quebec stove look like a hot water bottle." Forget all about butter fat tests and r.o.p.s. Sell them for their heating benefits. A cow in every cellar. Save Coal. Would the city folk ever go for that!

By way of footnote to the royal tour, we wonder how much prestige in Canada American news magazines, Time and Life, have lost from their off hand reporting of the tour? They seemed to go out of their way to report the offensive and ignore the best of the tour. Their choice of pictures was particularly inappropriate, we thought.

The charitable might suggest that the editors simply did not understand, despite their famed ability to "interpret" the news, the impact of the tour upon Canadians. The less charitable think that they are still fighting the American revolution.

There was some relenting when the visitors reached the United States and Americans were exposed first hand to their charm. But the memory of the first two weeks of reporting is hard to forget. It is curious too that the only recorded instance of trouble between press and police involved a Life photographer and that seemed to be the basis of some of the magazines' "back of the hand" approach.

Ah well, for news about Canada, read the Canadian press, we always say.

BLOOD PLASMA NEEDED

Newmarket had an enviable record for contributions of blood plasma to the Red Cross during the war and now the citizens are being called to support that achievement with further contributions. The demand on plasma stocks from the Korean front has lowered the supply in Canada and it must be replenished if Canadian troops are to be assured of its life-giving qualities.

The use of blood plasma on wounded soldiers has been described as the greatest single agent in the saving of lives of the wounded. The fact that since its organization after the war, the Newmarket Legion has maintained a volunteer blood donor service and at this latest call, is providing fifty donors, is indicative of the value veterans place upon this service.

The citizens of Newmarket can do no less than follow their example. The giving of blood is not a difficult nor painful undertaking; at the most, it represents 20 minutes of time. It is little enough to give yet it is the means of saving lives.

A list of prospective donors is being made up now. Donors have only to call Dr. VanderVoort's office to place their names on the list. When the number warrants it, the Red Cross will send in a mobile blood donor service. At least 100 names are required. Let's show our willingness to serve and save lives by doubling that number.

FOR FAIR ASSESSMENTS

Whitchurch township is discussing the application of "measured assessments" to its assessment of township properties. Measured assessments were recommended by the recent court of revision. It simply means the application of a more constant yardstick in appraising properties than is now in use. Its final result will be that individual properties will bear a more just relation in value to each other.

North Gwillimbury is completing a re-assessment in which measured assessments were used. Aurora was also re-assessed in this way, as was Newmarket and most other Ontario municipalities. It is a necessary undertaking in these days when property values are in a constant state of flux.

A just assessment is at the root of our whole system of property taxation. An unfairly low assessment means that the property owner is not paying his share of the municipal tax. An unfairly high assessment means that the owner is paying more than his share. Unless there is a just relation of property values set by a fixed standard of assessment, there can never be certainty that each property owner is paying his fair share of taxes. It is in the interest of every property owner that there be a fair assessment.

DOESN'T MAKE SENSE

The brewers and distillers in Ontario are allowed a form of institutional advertising but in Quebec, they have a wider latitude. Liquor advertising is a large part of the revenues of some magazines and papers and to harvest this income, they are moving their publishing offices to that province.

There is no liquor advertising on the radio in Canada, but in recent months, Canadian breweries have been buying time from radio stations in Buffalo and at other border points. These advertisements are heard by a good many in Canada.

We note these facts as indications of how foolish it is to attempt regional control of mediums which have no regional boundaries. It seems pointless to forbid a form of advertising in one province when it can be practised in another. The law of one province is ridiculed by the acts in another.

A uniform code is the only answer.

CANADIAN GOVERNOR-GENERAL

The late Premier King spent a good deal of effort to establish a growing measure of national sovereignty for Canada. His successor has carried on this policy, to the point now where there is every possibility that our next governor-general will be a Canadian.

But having gone this far, the question arises: who will be the government's choice? It will be a difficult appointment to make. The governor general must be beyond partisanship; he must have a stature respected by all Canadians; at the same time, he must be able to mix with Canadians in all walks of life without losing the dignity of his office.

The choice, actually, is a limited one. Mr. Ross MacDonald, speaker of the house, is one possibility. Mr. Vincent Massey is another. There is some talk that Prime Minister St. Laurent will resign to accept such a post. This seems to us a distant possibility, for while he meets the requirements of stature and ability, the decision might be questioned by a good many as partisanship.

HUMANE SOCIETY

The North York Humane Society has in the past months been making strenuous efforts to establish a pound or shelter where stray animals may be kept. Without such a shelter, and a man to look after it, no municipal animal by-law serves much purpose. The Society has now succeeded in its efforts and has established a shelter on the old Stallard slaughter-house property on Second St., north of the cemetery.

The Society deserves considerable credit for its persistence in this undertaking despite many efforts to discourage it. It is a curious fact but frequently those who have the greatest use for the Society's services have showed the least co-operation. However, the shelter is ready, the Society has the staff, and the remedy for stray dogs and other animal nuisances has been found.

The Society is dependent upon the support of the public. At present, it is conducting a campaign for funds. The campaign should have the generous support of all citizens for the services the Society gives, in looking after strays, in the prevention of cruelty to animals, and in the care of animals, are services it gives on behalf of all citizens.

CANADIAN WAY BETTER

The Canadians who want price-controls should give a thought to the words of Mr. Wm. R. Biggs, chairman of the board of the Brookings Institution and vice-president of a New York Bank. In a public address recently, he said that Canada has controlled prices at least as well as the United States but without the imposition of price controls and the establishment of the bureaucracy to administer them.

He made other comparisons between the United States and Canada fiscal policies in the current crisis which are more than creditable to Canada. Some of his comparisons: Canada has had a surplus every year since the war and has reduced her national debt by 15 percent since 1946. In that same period, the United States has had a net deficit.

Canada has made much more use of sales and excise taxes which strike directly at consumption as a means to curb demand. Canadian credit restrictions are stricter. Our banking system has more effectively controlled credit, factors which have had much to do with restraining inflationary trends.

The Canadian government has raised the interest rate on savings bonds which should encourage saving rather than lead to the U.S. experience where more bonds are cashed than new ones sold. Through deferred depreciation on non-essential expansion, we have eased the strain on certain resources.

The Financial Post, in recording these facts, adds that Mr. Biggs made more comparisons, most of them in Canada's favor. "It felt good to hear an American say these things," says the Post.

PARK AT LAKE SIMCOE

York County council is to be praised for its decision to purchase the Eildon Hall property in Georgina township as a future public park. The offer of the county is less than the owners have asked and there is still the possibility that the county's offer will be rejected. But having come as far as it has, it is to be hoped that the council will pursue the proposal until the purchase can be completed.

The fact is that the council should have acted long before now to provide for park land along the shores of Lake Simcoe. North Gwillimbury has set aside a few acres as a park, and there are some strips of shore which offer access to water for visitors, but these lands are wholly inadequate to meet the need. A large public park along the south shore is most necessary.

There is a tendency to regard such undertakings as an unwarranted expense. After all, what does a municipality owe visitors? There is no formal obligation, it has been argued.

Quite apart from ensuring access to a public resource, parkland along the lake shore is one sure means of maintaining the popularity of the lake, and enjoying the by-products of that popularity in increased land values and a growing volume of business. The fact that there has been no place for the visitor to stop and enjoy the benefits of Lake Simcoe has been enough to discourage countless numbers of weekend tourists. That has been business lost to the lake area.

EDITORIAL NOTE

There is a bill before parliament which, if passed, would observe the celebrations of Dominion Day and Victoria Day on the nearest Monday in their respective months instead of by the calendar date. We hope such a bill receives the support necessary to pass it. When these holidays fall during the middle of the week they serve no purpose whatever and they do disrupt the business week.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

I and Slim Bliggins took Col. Wellington Fitz-Privy deer hunting over the weekend. Bliggins and I went in the capacity of paid hunting guides for the colonel who likes his deer set up and mounted before he shoots at them.

Fitz-Privy is the real modern hunter Anglo-American. He has the dogged "fight on the beaches, never surrender" spirit plus modern American equipment and arms. He is not one to fool around when he takes up a sport.

We left the city in his super sports $8,000 Alfa-Romero sports car. Mounted on the hood in front of the driver's seat was a Bofors fast firing converted anti-aircraft gun, his favorite deer gun. A 50 calibre Browning machine gun fitted with both floats and wheels was conveniently accessible in the trunk, in case he missed the first try.

Col. Wellington is never satisfied without a kill. He will have his guides go to no ends to get a deer. Last year he had one transported from Riverdale Park to Bancroft in a cage just so he could say he shot a deer in the woods.

If there are no animals in sight he will choose any subject at hand. One year he brought two Peterborough township residents home, strapped to each fender of the Alfa-Romero.

"Gad sir, this is the life wot? Ho for the open spaces and all that," shouted Fitz-Privy with feignish delight. We were roaring up Yonge St. at 80 miles an hour to the colonel's happy hunting grounds.

"You should get to Valhalla for this," commented Slim aside.

We pitched camp on the shores of a quiet northern lake. The air was crisp and there was a inch of snow on the ground so that we could see any deer tracks, one of the requirements of deer hunting.

There was a breathless stillness, shattered only by the colonel firing the cartridge in his automatic fold-up campfire.

As I said, he colonel has all of the best equipment: automatic weapons, automatic campfire, automatic pork and beans, deer radar, automatic deer skinner and automatic sleeping bags.

Slim Bliggins was petulant. He is a hunter of the old school who likes to shoot deer with his musket, ram loaded. He did not like "huntin' with that new fangled gear."

The colonel parked his Alfa at a crossroads and loaded up his Bofors. We were to scurry over the hills, round up some deer and herd them along the road so that they passed in front of the car. He gave us strict instructions to bay his hounds because we would have to substitute for dogs on this trip.

It was an unsuccessful hunting trip in our opinion. We found no deer but in our thrashing about in the woods Slim and I came across an old cow. We "herded" it leisurely down the road. As we rounded a curve, the colonel opened fire and Slim and I flattened out on the ground to save our lives.

The colonel, who cannot tell the difference between a cow and a deer, proudly drove back to the city with his bag. "Gad sir," he said. "Wot? Farnella be proud of me for this. Who said I couldn't bag a deer?"

The colonel's trophy room will soon have an Ayrshire head on the wall.

Slim Bliggins scoffed. "Taint nothing, like the huntin' I've done. Take the huntin' I've done for instance," he said boastfully. "Mind the time I was usin' the old .44."

"Yes?" I said, encouragingly. "I saw this here deer at 800 yards, see, and I take aim and..."

"Eight hundred yards!" I exclaimed. "Why man, that's a terrific distance to shoot a deer. Why it would be hard enough to find a deer with the naked eye at that distance."

"Yep, 800," said Slim. "Packed her off myself. Anyway, I takes aim and what do you think? I hit him square in the head and took home my deer. That was with the old .44."

"As a matter of fact," he added, "I had to shoot that deer so far that I strained the gun doin' it."

We also profit because men in their position can take losses which are involved in operations essential to good cattle breeding, like culling. Quite often their pleasure in cattle breeding goes deep and is sincere. The cattle they breed and sell are very seldom compensation for the effort expended. But they have the satisfaction of work well done. Naturally some will fall at the wayside. But some will carry on.

Sometimes the early discouragement isn't all their fault either. They got many a bum steer, so to say. It takes years to recognize and learn the first essentials of sound breeding, to get away from fads and see the first results. If the first heifers bred and born on their farms aren't more than average, discouragement will set in. Those few who will stick it out to reach fame and success, are benefiting the breed they are in well beyond what they get out of it financially. All you have to do is look around in any breed and you will see that this is true.

There is no place where all this is quite as obvious as the cattle show of the Winter Fair, regardless of breed. Take away those who breed cattle for whatever compensation they get out of it and you will find that there won't be too much to look at. There has been no institution founded or system devised to improve cattle to take the place of those who give their time and energy and money without having to look at the milk cheque to make a living of it. When after years of effort and discouragement, the financial success is achieved as well, we must remember that as a group, they have given as much to the benefit of all.

Mrs. Roale Smith was hostess to the Y.W.M.S. of the church of the Nazarene, Newmarket, when it met on Thursday, Nov. 15, at her home. Mrs. A. E. Petersen presided and lead the regular missionary study. Mrs. Kenneth Olsen gave the Scripture reading.

The members drew new names for their "Secret Pal" program. Gifts were exchanged with last year's Pals. During the year each member exchanges gifts with another on the occasion of her birthday, Christmas and other special anniversaries, but until the end of the season, they are unaware of the lady sending each gift. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

In world affairs, it plays no small part. Mrs. Williams' account of the convention sessions may be seen in the King column of this edition.

The community hall trust fund is increasing. It was agreed to draw on the treasury the sum of $75, or less, in order to bring the fund to $1,100. This is the special trust account held in the bank by the Institute for the purpose of contributing to a proposed hall project. Through the generosity of a friend of the local Institute, opportunity has been given to raise extra monies in support of the work.

It was agreed to donate $10 to the Jamaica Hurricane Relief Fund and $10 to the Greek appeal, to assist the farming community of Mesovouno in procuring a tractor, a project of the Provincial W.I. In 1940 this Greek community suffered great loss. All males from ages 16 to 60 were massacred. The women and children are trying to eke out a living for themselves.

Mr. R. Burt, secretary of King school board, has accepted the offer of the Institute to supply refreshments at the open house of the school, Friday, Nov. 23. Mrs. Austin Rumble and Mrs. Aubrey Campbell are a committee to consult the teaching staff, headed by the principal, Miss Eva Dennis. The December roll call will be cash donations toward the purchase of a Christmas basket for a needy family of the district.

Mrs. T. L. Williams and Mrs. Len Shropshire will pack the Christmas box to be sent to King W.I., England. Mrs. A. Rumble said that her brother is completing the hand-made hammered aluminum tray, which will be the gift of King to Klee Ste. Margaret, W.I. of Shropshire, England. The hand-engraved inscription will centre the outline of the maple leaf.

Mrs. Len Shropshire, the program convener of the month, played the piano and led a sing-song.

Mrs. Ed. Kyle spoke on the motto of happiness. She read Edna Jacques' poem "Small Deeds". Mrs. Colin Stewart conducted current events.

Miss Margaret Neilson, superintendent of the Thistletown branch of the Hospital for Sick Children, addressed Laskay W.I. meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Buddin, November 13. She gave an interesting account of the founding of the parent hospital at Toronto in 1876, and its expansion to a convalescent branch outside the city. The opening of the new building in the city was held last year. The organization represents the largest children's hospital on the North American continent.

The Thistletown hospital has a site of 98 acres, and has a staff of public and kindergarten teachers, therapy teachers, and its Brownie Pack. Many young patients, hospitalized for years, are transferred to the rural branch. The establishment of a Brownie Pack here has created a great deal of interest for patients, who whether strapped face down on a frame, bed patients or walking about, are given equal opportunity to win their badges.

Mrs. Marshall McMurchy, program convener, read a poem entitled "These Things Are Good", written by Edna Jacques. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

The branch will continue with dances in Laskay hall to promote the hall building fund. The recent bazaar bolstered the fund by more than $113.

The Gormley branch will meet at the home of Mrs. George Boynton on Wednesday, Nov. 28.

LARGE CROWD SEES BEATTY TRAVEL SHOW

Over 300 people visited the Beatty travel show on Friday, Nov. 18. Free demonstrations of a complete line of laundry equipment were presented at half-hour intervals between 2 and 5 and 7 and 9 p.m. in front of Spillette's store, Main St.

Visitors to the large Beatty tractor trailer caravan had the opportunity to enter their names in a contest for one of the ten automatic Beatty washers. The draw will be held before Dec. 15.

Additional prizes were donated by Spillette's in a draw open to visitors to their store on Friday. Winner of the pop-up toaster was Mrs. Howard Lehman, Pine Orchard. Mrs. Charles Doane, Queensville, won the electric kettle.

In the morning, the demonstration was presented to two classes in the Home Economics department of the Newmarket-Sutton Area High School. Miss Gardiner, teacher of these classes, said that it was one of the most interesting and complete demonstrations visited by the group.

W.M.S. SENDS AID TO INDIA WORKERS

The W.M.S. of the Church of the Nazarene, Newmarket, met on Wednesday, Nov. 14, at the home of Mrs. Douglas McClure, Bogartown. Mrs. John Shier, president, led the group in the devotional period.

The ladies have completed two silk blouses which will be sent to a missionary in India. Light refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

HOME DISCIPLINE TOPIC OF H.S. ASS'N

"Methods of discipline, approved and unapproved" will be the topic of Dr. Margaret Arkinstall's talk at the Nov. 27 meeting of the Newmarket Home and School association. The meeting will be held in the Prince Charles school beginning at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Arkinstall's committee on Home Education is in charge of the program. Following her talk, an informal discussion period will be held. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and teachers to attend on Tuesday evening.

NEWMARKET LADIES VISIT AURORA CLUB

Members of the Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club were guests of the Aurora B. and P. club on the occasion of the latter's second birthday. The party was held on Monday, Nov. 19, in the Mechanics' Hall, Aurora. Twenty-four Newmarket members were present.

Mrs. Gamble, Valley Field Inn, vice president of the Aurora club, presided. Following the delicious turkey dinner, the ladies were entertained by the Aurora 80-50 club quartette. Norine Ayers, president of the Newmarket club, proposed the toast to Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Mr. Gibb, geography master, St. Andrew's college, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Gamble. Mr. Gibb gave a very interesting account of a trip taken to Europe during the summer holidays. He was accompanied by 13 boys from the college. They visited England, France, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

SPEAKS TO TEACHERS ON STUDY CHANGES

Mrs. J. W. Bowman, Newmarket, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Women Teachers' Federation held in Kowlick on Monday, Nov. 12. The meeting was called to discuss the formation of groups to consider curriculum revision. Nancy Daloy, Kowlick, presided.

Mrs. Bowman was introduced by Eva Barnes, Newmarket, Federation director for region three. Mrs. Bowman gave a talk on psychology. She raised the question of including such subjects as dramatics and public speaking in the elementary schools. A discussion by the teachers followed.

Then $1.70 an ounce!

Ninety-three years ago, Queen's University, Kingston, gave a medal to its first graduate in chemistry. The medal was made of aluminum—which then cost $17.00 an ounce.

Today aluminum costs only slightly over one cent an ounce.

The price has been brought down by mass production in huge plants using the electrolytic process discovered twenty-eight years after the Queen's medal was presented.

By developing some of Canada's waterpower, previously running to waste, Alcan has succeeded in making this country the world's most efficient producer of aluminum, giving employment to many thousands of Canadians and through exports of "packaged power" aiding Canadians in acquiring the imports needed here. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

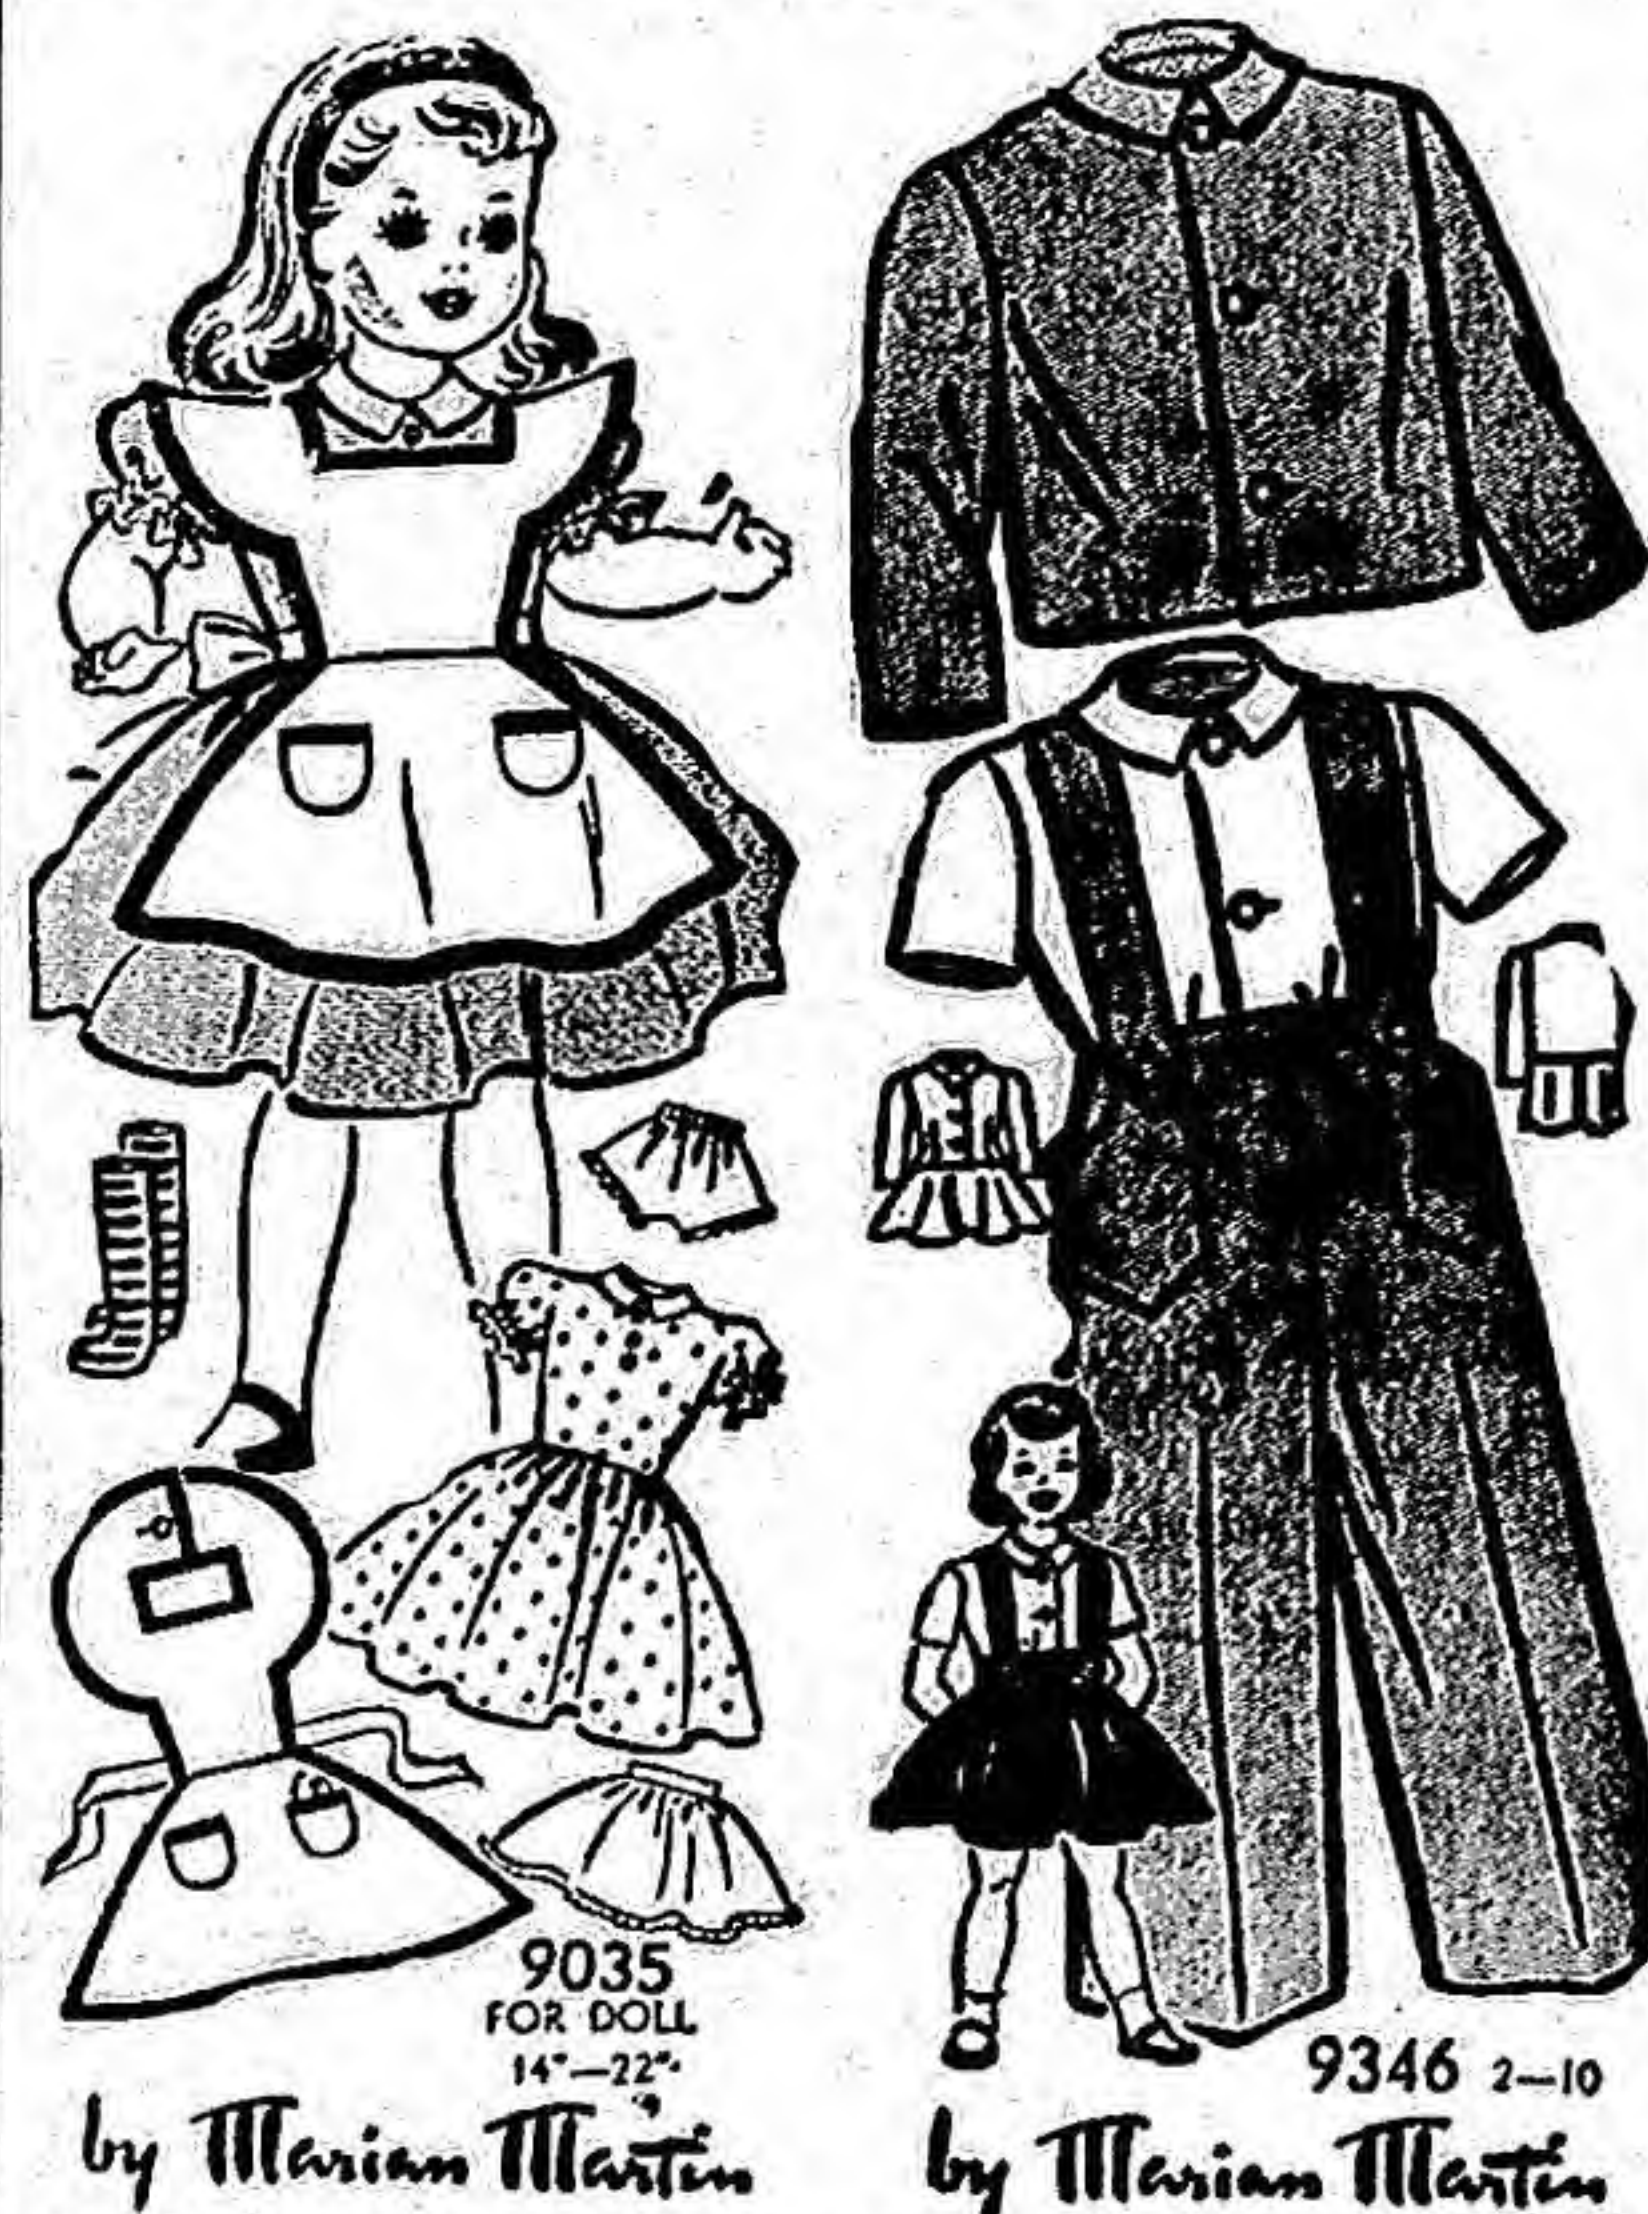

Simple and Compact

This four-room bungalow of frame construction offers maximum convenience for everyday living. A compact working area is the keynote of the combined kitchen-dinette. The ample size of the living-room and two bedrooms ensures plenty of living space for the small family. Careful planning has eliminated unnecessary hall areas, while the basement and five large closets provide sufficient storage facilities. The exterior dimensions of the house are 30' x 24' 4" and for estimating purposes the area is 730 square feet. The house contains 14,008 cubic feet. (Working drawings may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, 56 Lyon St., Ottawa, at minimum cost.)

Needlecraft News by Pauline Roy

HOME SEWING has become a fashionable hobby because you can make yourself many of the new styles that you see and admire in the fashion magazines. A hobby because it is fun to do and a profitable way to pass a few hours. Your choice of fabrics and colors is large and the opportunities for enlarging your wardrobe are endless.

Gay Holiday Season

The holiday season approaching calls for dressier clothes than any other season of the year. Winter glamour in ensembles, perfumes, beads, sequins and furs gives every woman her chance to be alluringly feminine, the exciting person who always longs to be. Try a new shade in your make-up to blend with the colors in your wardrobe and you'll see a new loveliness that is difficult to describe. Add a few sequins in either gold or a bright color to that favorite crepe dress making a change so great even you will find it difficult to recognize. Beads and sequins are better than ever this year, appearing on gloves, stockings, hats, dresses and even on hat veils. Yes, it's the gayest, driest season of the year when families and old friends get together to exchange the Season's Greetings and to drink a toast to the New Year.

Holiday Hostess Gown

For Christmas morning you'll want a pretty, cozy house coat. The one featured here is made of lovely wool jersey with a grosgrain ribbon belt. If you wish to make this HOSTESS GOWN, a direction leaflet is available for sizes 12, 14 and 16 by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. 88-8.

OBITUARIES

O. T. Waterhouse

Associated for 47 years with the Warren Bituminous Paving Co., Oscar Thomas Waterhouse died at his home, 37 Pearl St., Hamilton, on November 8, 1951, after an illness of three months.

Born at Mitchell, Ont., July 20, 1885, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Waterhouse. He was married on November 25, 1904, to Mary Ellen Ridley, who survives him.

He was a member of the United Zion church, a member of the Buchanan AF & AM, Hamilton, a life member of the Masonic Order, and a member of the 25-year club, Warren Paving Co. He was interested in bowling as his chief recreation.

As a construction superintendent, Mr. Waterhouse had laid pavement in almost every city from Fort William to Halifax. He laid the first pavement in the town of Newmarket. He did work for the Dept. of Highways, and during the war built several airports for the Federal government.

A patient of the late Sir Frederick Banting, Mr. Waterhouse was the first person in Hamilton to receive insulin treatment, in 1920.

Surviving, besides his wife, are a son, Joseph B.; a daughter, Marvona L.; five grandchildren and four brothers, Lambert, of Ingersoll, Joseph, St. Catharines, Clifford, Toronto, and Herbert, Calist, Alta.

Rev. Steed conducted funeral services in Hamilton on Nov. 10. Pallbearers were Lambert, Joseph, and Stallard Waterhouse, and F. H. Lehman, George Rice, and John Kerr.

Interment was in Hamilton cemetery.

Mrs. J. Williamson

A resident of Newmarket for some years, Mrs. Jessie Dunn Williamson died on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at the home of her nephew, Mr. Dawson Dike, Mount Albert, after a short illness.

She was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dunn of Scott Township. Her husband, Joseph Williamson of Uxbridge Township, predeceased her.

Mrs. Williamson had been a school teacher, and attended the Mount Albert United church. For the past few years she had resided with her niece, Miss Mildred Dike, in Mount Albert.

Surviving are three sons, Guy, Mount Albert, and Arthur and Nuric of Toronto; two sisters, Mrs. J. F. Burr and Mrs. W. R. Steeper, Mount Albert; and four granddaughters, Mrs. Orville Shell, Loraine and Betty Lou Williamson, Toronto, and Mrs. Bruce Davidson, Montreal. Another daughter, Olive (Mrs. H. Goodwin), is deceased.

Rev. C. P. Shapter officiated at funeral services held at the chapel, Mount Albert, on Nov. 1. Pallbearers were J. Harrison, John Walker, Percy Walker, Hugh Price, Roy Stewart and Douglas Campbell. Many floral tributes were received. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

Emanuel Miller

A mason and farmer resident in Queensville, Emanuel Miller died on October 27 at Miami Beach, after an illness of six months.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, he was born in Markham, January 16, 1870. He was married November 12, 1895, to Sarah Topper, who predeceased him many years ago. His second wife, Ida Baker, survives him. He was a member of the United church.

Also surviving are three sons, Stanley, D'Arcy and Chester; a daughter, Mrs. Ross Howlett (Gladys); a brother, David Miller, Toronto; and a sister, Mrs. J. Travers, also of Toronto.

Rev. George Killen conducted funeral services at Newmarket, on Oct. 30. Pallbearers were George, Garnet, Everett, Gordon, Aubrey and James Miller.

Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

A COMMUNITY SERVICE — ALL ARE WELCOME

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

HITHER AND YON

Do you love looking forward to things—Christmas, birthdays—any and all of the worthwhile life-road marks we cherish? Well, if so, you will be looking forward to the series of concerts by our own Canadian artists which will delight our ears in the new year, but for which we must prepare now. There is so much more about listening to an artist—to hear the singer, reader or instrumentalist, than just being there in the flesh.

Your mind and your soul must be in harmony with what you hear and you must SEE the picture the artist is trying to paint, no matter what his tools may be. So I hope we will see many of you at the concerts.

Bazaar

This is the time of year when bazaars abound. In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, and in the fall the thoughts of all women's institutions turn to bazaars.

Our Bogartown's W.I. held one, two weeks ago, in the Scout hall, Newmarket, and as I walked about, looking at things, you felt again, you were looking at a picture—a picture drawn by many hands—for every article displayed was the work of careful and skilful hands. Two things without which no bazaar would be complete were there in full force—aprons and home-baking, and I might add, home-made candy.

These articles are gone before one can really say one has seen them, and then, everyone takes a cup of tea and all the dainties that accompany it. I can say without being self-laudatory that the sandwiches and cakes were delicious—and abundant, and the tea table, presided over by Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. L. Harper, was very lovely with its flower-decorated, candlelit beauty. Tea seems to loosen people's tongues and brings a spirit of friendliness into being.

All the tables were attractive—one could get vegetables and cream and home-grown tomatoes and African violets and various condiments. There was something for everybody.

Then, too, another day, we visited the showing of arts and crafts work put on by Newmarket's gifted craftsmen.

Each year we see lovely woven things, woodwork, craft work of so many kinds. One I wish to speak of which was new this year—the display, on the wall above the platform, of exquisitely tinted engravings—these the work of Mrs. Cecil Jarvis. The truth of the coloring—especially the flesh tones—was so marked as to seem to bring the faces alive. Then too, each tiny detail was brought out with such purity of detail and fineness of line and color, that one just stood and tried to appreciate an art that could be so true to the most infinitesimal detail. One envies an artist with such a gift.

At this craft show, too, home baking took its accustomed popular place. I know that Newmarket W.I. was sold out in time to allow Bogartown to move in and do very well.

Mrs. Bovair tells me that the whole showing was a marked improvement both in attendance and sales over other years. It is good to see how fine are the hobbies that keep people alert and happy. Surely in a world gone mad with fear—fear of the unknown terrible things that MAY happen—it is good to look at the sane and lovely things that man can make for the good and not the destruction of man!

A Presentation
It has always been my habit to write of any presentations to the young people of our immediate neighborhood, especially if we have known one or both of them from almost infancy.

So, when at the Halloween party at Bogartown school, Mr. and Mrs. Murray McClure were presented with a lovely clock and an all-wool blanket, I felt that here was something going into another new home. I can look back and see our living room, 15 years ago on a Saturday afternoon. Rows of little boys and girls, each armed (?) with an instrument for making music, and at the end of one row, clasp-

Envy a neighbor's new car is not too bad if you do something about it—work and save to get one yourself.

ing a pair of cymbals—Murray McClure. Now Murray is a homemaker, but for us there will always be the sight of his earnest face as he watched Archie for his cue to clash his brazen instruments, and the memory of the day we sang "Three Blind Mice", as a round and Murray fell off his chair; he laughed so hard. We hope he will keep the gift of laughter all his life and that he and his wife will be happy wherever they may be.

Next week: Dr. Parks.

Aluminum is friendly to food

"The proof's
in the eating"...

AGREE THREE SMILING GENERATIONS

Good cooks are proud of their favourite recipes. And when they find utensils that cook food well, preserve flavour and quality, and clean easily, they're proud of them, too. That's why so many homemakers write in to tell us about their aluminum utensils. Aluminum has been a Canadian kitchen favourite for half a century. So many mothers do more than teach their daughters to cook; they teach them to use good utensils, too!

Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd.

(Toronto, Ontario)

Dear Sirs:
I have used aluminum cooking utensils for the past twenty-four years and they are still as good as new.
Our family of ten girls and a boy, one all married, are living examples of the health retaining benefits of foods cooked in my aluminum ware.
I heartily endorse the excellent qualities of aluminum utensils and believe they are indispensable for the modern homemaker.
